Chamber of Commerce Has Convenient Plan for City Bridge Petitions

Arranges for Telegrams To Be Sent at Once to Governor Asking That He Sign Bill
Train Service
Business Firms Are Also Requested to Aid in the Drive for Span

Chairmen of the various Chamber of Commerce committees will shortly call meetings of their committees for the purpose of getting their program of activities under way for the coming year. That action was taken at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Hotel Stuyvesant, called by President James L. Rowe, for the purpose of organizing for the coming year.

The meeting was attended by all of the committee chairmen except one who was prevented from attending because of business. Plans were formulated for the coming season and dates were set by each chairman for a meeting with his committee.

It was announced that the Publicity Committee, which is working on the campaign to swamp Governor Dewey with messages urging that the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge bill be signed, had arranged with the Western Union to send telegrams to the Governor at the request of telephone patrons. All that is necessary is to go to your phone and ask for Western Union, then tell them to send a telegram urging passage of the bridge bill and authorize its being charged to your phone bill.

Not only is the campaign for passage of the bridge bill being sponsored by local people but the Publicity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Harry R. Rigg, Jr., chairman, and the Wholesale Committee, William C. Kingman, chairman, have instituted a campaign urging that local people contact firms and concerns who supply them with merchandise and ask those firms to send a telegram urging signing of the bill. Many local merchants have been inconvenienced by salesmen changing their routes since the ferry service over the river stopped. Re-routing by salesmen who travel by train as well as by car, has eliminated trips to Kingston and many wholesale firms have found it necessary to by-pass Kingston to their loss and the inconvenience of local trade. Such firms are being asked to seek support of the bill and urge the governor to sign the bridge bill.

Ask Better Train Service
The matter of better train service to New York was also discussed and the West Shore will be asked to give improved service between Kingston and New York.

It was suggested that a south bound express train be placed in service, leaving Kingston in the morning and that a similar fast service be included from New York to Kingston in the evening. Among the matters discussed by committee chairmen was the matter of local industry taking up its problems with the Industrial Advisory Committee. This committee will be glad to aid in any problems of local concerns. This committee functions aid industry already at the union's convention. Frankenstein was defeated by Edward J. Jeffries, incumbent, in last year's Detroit mayoralty fight.

Limited Service Men Plan Underway That Has More Crushing Effect on Ships, Say the Experts

Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—New York's draft boards will dip into rosters of limited service registrants to meet increased induction requirements calling for delivery of 19 men per local board in April compared with the March average of seven men per board.

Brig. Gen. Ames T. Brown, State Selective Service director, announced a "change in regulations lowering the physical standards means that registrants in the limited service group (between the ages of 18 and 25 inclusive) will be sent to the induction stations without pre-induction physical examination."

"If found to be qualified for military service under the new physical standards, they will be inducted," Brown added.

He estimated the limited service pool at 1,600 men, exclusive of New York city.

The Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America, Local 1350, representing the employees of the Kingston City Transportation Corporation, and the Kingston Newspaper Guild, have petitioned Governor Thomas E. Dewey to sign the Wicks-Hatfield Bill which provides for the construction of a bridge across the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

Oh, To Be Eligible For These Classes!

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—Vassar College, one of the nation's oldest girls' schools, "will admit properly qualified men to study in regular classes . . . during the period of overcrowding of educational institutions because of the return of veterans," President Henry Noble MacCracken announced last night.

The male students will be admitted only as non-residents. Candidates will be accepted for the term which opens April 23 as well as for entrance in September.

Coal Miners May Quit This Week in Contract Demand

John L. Lewis Rejects the Reply of Operators to His Proposals on Wages, Fund

Washington, March 26 (AP)—John L. Lewis announced today that his 400,000 miners will stop work this week-end unless a new contract is perfected with bituminous operators before then.

Lewis rejected the operators' reply to his demands as "entirely unsatisfactory" and there was no indication that an agreement could be reached before midnight Sunday, when the present contract expires.

Restrictions Put on Commercial Building to Help Housing Program

Committee Favors $253,727,000 for Veterans' Homes
Object Is to Get More Scarce Materials for Homes During the Next 2 Years

House Is Expected to Vote on Building Fund Tomorrow at Capitol
Washington, March 26 (AP)—A new $253,727,000 fund to provide temporary homes for war veterans was approved by the House Appropriations Committee today and sent to the floor for a vote probably tomorrow.

The legislation provides for 102,350 units of temporary housing for veterans and their dependents and completion of a previously approved program for 100,000 temporary homes for which Congress has appropriated $191,000,000.

The number of units previously provided, the committee said in stressing the need for prompt action, is "wholly inadequate."

The proposed housing consists largely of military barracks and temporary buildings which were erected for war workers. These would be converted and used on their present sites or be moved to areas where they are needed.

The committee estimated it would cost $1,900 per unit to move a temporary dwelling built for war workers, $1,900 per unit to convert a military barracks for occupancy on its present site and $2,500 per unit to convert a military barracks and move it.

Cannibalism in China
Chungking, March 25 (AP)—The Central News Agency today reported that more than 10,000 inhabitants of Yungning in southern Hopeh province had died of starvation since Communist forces blocked that town six months ago. It said the survivors are resorting to cannibalism as the supply of tree bark, on which they have been subsisting, is exhausted.

Russia With Polish Support Objects to Council Taking up the Dispute
Troops Withdrawn

Declare That Case Was Handled in Accord With Admonition

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
New York, March 26 (AP)—The United States, Britain and several other members demanded today that the United Nations Security Council go immediately into the Russian-Iranian dispute, but Russia, with Polish support, steadfastly objected.

The United States and Britain insisted today that both Russia and Iran should report to the U.N.O. Security Council the details of whatever agreement they have made—as reported last night by Prime Minister Stalin—for withdrawal of Red Army forces from Iran.

Russia opposed having the council take up the Iranian case, at least in so far as it was presented by complaints lodged with the peace-enforcement agency by Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala. In sharp opposition, Secretary of State Byrnes for the United States and Sir Alexander Cadogan for Britain, declared the case must be heard.

Gromyko said there was no need even to place the Iranian case on the council agenda for further discussion because it has been settled by an agreement between Moscow and Tehran.

Byrnes replied that if Russia had made such an agreement it should have informed the Security Council, and certainly, he argued, the council would not wish to deny Iran an opportunity to be heard.

Sir Alexander endorsed the Byrnes declaration. He cited a resolution adopted in London by the council two months ago saying that Iran and Russia should try to settle their troubles directly but that the council might ask them to report what they were doing.

"Then there is the other question—the maintenance of Soviet troops in Iran" beyond the March 2 deadline for their withdrawal, Agreement Announced

Instead of merely asking for a delay in taking up the appeal filed last week by Ambassador Hussein Ala of Iran, Gromyko said Prime Minister Stalin had announced the agreement for withdrawal of the troops. They began getting out last Sunday, he added, and thus the Iranian crisis was being handled in accord with a Security Council admonition to the two nations at London to settle their differences by direct negotiations.

For these reasons, Mr. Chairman, Gromyko said to presiding officer Dr. Quo Tai-Chi of China, "I propose that the case not be placed on the agenda."

Byrnes said that if an agreement had been reached Russia should have filed a statement of this before the council.

"The Iranian government has not withdrawn its complaint," he said.

"All that is now contemplated," Byrnes argued, "is the adoption of an agenda which would give to the Iranian government an opportunity to present its case. Surely the United Nations cannot deny to any government the opportunity to present facts."

Police Chief Post Will Not Be Filled Until April Meeting

The question of who will succeed Chief of Police Charles Phinney when he retires on April 30, will not be answered until the April meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners, but several likely candidates are being considered, according to Mayor W. F. Edmuth, president of the police commissioners.

Mayor Edmuth when seen today said that the candidates under consideration were both inside and outside the police department, but he did not divulge the names of any being considered for the post.

Two Procedures
Two procedures of selecting a new police chief are open to the police commissioners. They may appoint a man from the ranks of the police department, or select a chief outside the ranks of the department, according to a member of the Municipal Civil Service Board.

If a promotion is made from the ranks it is likely that the choice will lie between the present two police lieutenants, Frederick C. Continued on Page Fourteen Frankenstern was defeated by J. J. Jeffries, incumbent, in last year's Detroit mayoralty election.

Seaway Project Is Favored 3 to 1 In Washington

Foreign Relations Group Will Send Report to Full Committee for Consideration

Washington, March 26 (AP)—A Senate foreign relations subcommittee today recommended favorable action on legislation authorizing the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project.

Chairman Hatch (D-N.M.) voted the five-man subcommittee voted 3-1 to report favorably on the proposal. Opposed to the recommendation, he said, was Senator White (R-Me.), with Senator Tamm (D-De.) abstaining.

Hatch, and Senators La Follette (R-Wis.) and Hill (D-Ala.), voted with the majority. Hill's ballot was by proxy vote, Hatch said.

The chairman said that the recommendation, which now goes to the 23-member foreign relations committee, will not be submitted until the record of recent hearings is printed possibly in two weeks.

The legislation authorizing the long-debated, international development is based on an agreement between this country and Canada, negotiated in 1941 by the late President Roosevelt.

'Denaturing' Process May Harness Atom for Business

By JACK BELL

John L. Lewis Rejects Reply of Operators to His Proposals on Wages, Fund

Washington, March 26 (AP)—John L. Lewis announced today that his 400,000 miners will stop work this week-end unless a new contract is perfected with bituminous operators before then.

Lewis rejected the operators' reply to his demands as "entirely unsatisfactory" and said he was indicating that the miners would be on strike next week.

The operators' proposals included a wage increase of about 18 cents an hour and a joint union-industry survey of the possibility of setting up a "reasonable" fund to take care of victims of mine accidents.

Will Remain at Home

Lewis told reporters at a news conference that the United Mine Workers will stay home with their families next week. He said "there will be no miners' blood spilled" next week and that lives will be saved and injuries averted by the work stoppage.

"The mine workers will not test, pass upon the propriety of the contract," he declared.

Not Calling Strike

"You'll note," he said at another point, "that we're not calling a strike."

The operators' proposals comprised six offers which they said were made after "thorough" efforts to get the actual negotiations on a consideration of basic issues.

In addition to the pay raise and the joint study, the operators suggested that the mine workers' union administer funds collected from miners for medical and benefit purposes in cases where they have been sustaining an exhausted.

Gromyko said his letter of appeal for council help contained subject matter not "fit to be placed on the agenda" of the council.

Reasons for Objection

For his objection to the Iranian charges, Gromyko advanced three reasons:

1. He said that Red forces from Iran, Pakistan, Afghanistan, and elsewhere were still in Iran.

2. He declared that in recent times relations between the Soviet Union and Iran have been aggravated by groups seeking to overthrow the Iranian government.

3. He declared a "case" of the arguments advanced by Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala as "inadequate."

Man Who Tamed Money Tackles Atomic Power

By NATHAN OATIS
Newsfeatures Writer

Bernard M. Baruch, 75, United States representative of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission is known as the man whose office is a park bench.

In the days when he was head of President Roosevelt's World War II rubber committee, starting in 1942, he used to hold conferences and frame policies on a bench in Lafayette Square, across the street from the White House. Such openness was characteristic. Baruch has shown a park-sitter's temperament. He has been generous with many people and direct with some of them.

He has given away speculation—earned millions in philanthropies.

BERNARD M. BARUCH

—for hospitals, refugee relief, war work and economic studies, among other things.

And he admits that once, acting on a real man-to-man basis, he struck a man he'd seen abusing a cab driver on Fifth avenue, New York. He hurt his right hand.

"I was damn fool enough to do it," he explains, "when I was 68 years old."

Graduated from City College in

New York, he started on Wall Street as a brokerage clerk at $3 a week, studied statistics, began buying and selling stocks and at 25 was made a partner in the brokerage firm he worked for.

He turned speculator, won the respect of John W. (Bet-a-Million) Gates and others and by the time he was 30 had gained and lost his first million.

Going into government work in the first World War, he sold his seat on the New York Stock Exchange and put most of his money into government bonds.

"There are two kinds of money," he said once. "The first is money that possesses man. The second is possessed by man. If money had possessed men, it would have been my master instead of my slave."

In World War I, as chairman of the War Industries Board, he helped pay for a mission to Europe to study distribution of materials shipped there. In World War II, heading the rubber committee, he paid his staff out of his own pocket.

He gave away a million dollars at Christmas, 1942, in Army and Navy and refugee relief and other causes and less than a year and a half afterward he gave $1,000,000 to promote "physical medicine."

"It has always been easy for me to make money," he says. "Why shouldn't I give it away?"

New Starch Lasts For Entire Life of Wearing Apparel

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

New York, March 26 (AP)—A permanent starch, in the form of a new resin, that lasts the life of a garment, without either washing out or loss in dry cleaning, was announced today by the Naugatuck Division of the United States Rubber Company.

This treatment came from war research. It was developed by the general laboratories of the rubber company. The new synthetic chemical is applied in water, and is used for cotton and rayon. When dry, this resin is a white powder. The particles are among the smallest known, so tiny that they are not visible under ordinary microscopes, and they both impregnate and coat textile fabrics.

The announcement says that this resin does not yellow and is effective with all fabric colors. When applied, the resin is completely invisible, it does not shorten the life of garments, and produces no skin irritation.

Garments are said to retain their starchiness under all weather conditions. This resin also is used on curtains and draperies. The permanent starching process adds no more than two percent to the weight of a fabric.

Non-Cracking Enamel
Another new war byproduct is a glossy white enamel that does not chip or crack. Also a resin, this is used on metal. Pounding with a hammer hard enough to dent the metal is said not to crack or chip the enamel. Flexing the metal does not cause cracking.

The enamel can be produced in all colors and it is useful for kitchen utensils, instruments like hair dryers that must stand high temperatures, refrigerators, and for hospital and other equipment where resistance to chemical action is desirable.

Protective Covering
A third new war product is a synthetic spray that forms a skin over machinery and packages to protect them from moisture. This coating was made first for the air forces, to protect planes exposed to the weather and ocean spray on freighter decks. Grease coating required many hours of labor to remove. The removal of the skin was so easy that about 80 per cent of this labor was saved.

The synthetic skin is removed much as soft bark would be stripped from trees. No knife is needed. A fingernail cuts through the skin and starts the strip to be peeled off. This resin is said to be useful for covering packages of irregular shape and for sealing the tops of bottles.

Boy's Leg Broken When Tractor Upsets

Murray Carran, 16-year-old orphan, who had been sent up from the Foster Home, 160 Tremont avenue, Bronx, to work on a farm operated by Nathan Weingarten, Lucas avenue extension, was taken to the Kingston Hospital Saturday afternoon suffering from a broken leg.

Deputy William Frost, who investigated for the sheriff's office, was told by the boy that he had taken the tractor and tried to operate it, although Weingarten had told him not to touch the machine. He lost control of the tractor and it turned over on him, breaking his leg. Carran's ambulance took Carran to the Kingston Hospital.

Four hundred and fifty people in the United States die each day of cancer.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, March 26 (AP)—The Legislature has unanimously approved creation of five experimental state technical institutes to train 4,500 full time and 9,000 part time students.

Veterans will have admission priority.

A bill passed in both houses yesterday and sent to Governor Dewey appropriates $3,000,000 to establish the institutes in New York city, Utica, Binghamton, Buffalo, and White Plains.

The institutes to teach applied arts and sciences through two-year courses open to high school graduates, will be established in existing converted buildings.

Meanwhile, the following measures, approved in both Houses and sent to the governor, would:

Continue a temporary state commission to formulate a long-range health program.

Fix $16,000 as the minimum yearly pay for teachers and supervisors in schools of cities of less than 150,000, union free school districts, central, central high and common school districts, except those with less than eight teachers.

Authorize the head of fire training of the new state safety division to draw up a plan for mobilization and mutual aid by localities in combating fires.

Provide for the use of "walk" signals in traffic control.

Appropriate $35,000 to the Education Department for supervision and promotion of school lunch programs.

Waive the 24-hour waiting period for marriage of a member of the armed forces or merchant marine.

Prohibit finance companies from compelling automobile buyers to insure vehicles with any particular firm.

Provide for continued state enforcement of O.P.A. regulations. The regulations previously were enforced under the War Emergency Act, repealed as of April 1.

Require opticians to be licensed by the state.

Require all automobile dealers to be licensed by the state.

Children Sell Pennies

Thrifty Scottish youngsters of Jarroon-on-Tyne have started a new currency racket and have cornered the local supply of pennies. Finding a heavy demand for pennies to work gas and electric slot meters during the winter cold, they are selling two pennies for a twelve-sided threepence piece, which does not fit into meter slots.

NAMES AND FAME

Families, like individuals, are sometimes better remembered for their defects than for the good deeds they have done. The Esterhazy, whose large estates the Russians are breaking up, are one of Hungary's great families, dating back to the 13th century. They have included generals and diplomats, and have always been high in the councils of the government. They are known to musicians as patrons of that art. Yet the best known member was none of these, but the scapegrace who figured in the Dreyfus case.

In this case, which almost destroyed the French Republic in the 1890's, Major Alfred Dreyfus, a Jew, was accused of having sold military secrets to Germany, and on the strength of a document which he was supposed to have written, was convicted and sent to the horrible prison camp of Devil's Island.

Many who came in contact with the case were not convinced of his guilt, and finally succeeded in gaining a new trial. Ultimately Dreyfus was freed of all charges, and the high army officers who framed him to protect their own infallibility committed suicide or were otherwise disgraced. The document in the case was proved to have been written by Major Walsin Esterhazy of the famous Hungarian family, who had become a French officer. Esterhazy fled to England, where he died in 1923.

Thus one scoundrel can taint an honored name.

STALIN STATEMENT

Generalissimo Stalin say he doesn't want war. Moreover, he doesn't believe any other nations want war. He does believe by supporting the U.N.O. and by pouring out our own deep belief in peace, to counteract the vicious propaganda for war, we can keep the peace and move toward better life.

Now if the Russian performance matches up to the promise, all will be well. The anxiety of the past few weeks has had the effect of directing a keener attention to the meeting of the U.N.O. Security Council. And the attention of the individual to his governmental works is what keeps them functioning properly. The interest of citizens is the only thing that can make the U.N.O. succeed.

POOR ELECTIONEERING

A good deal of fun has been poked at the Ohio candidate who threw 150 pairs of Nylons at a crowd as an electioneering stunt. But it was not funny. Most women getting hose that way would be apt to view the giver with contempt rather than with favor. Ability to get scarce articles in quantity and give them away to get votes does not indicate qualities of mind or character desirable in the governor of Ohio or any other state. Or in the candidate for any public office.

JOBS FOR VETERANS

A new guide on veteran employment has been prepared by the Department of Labor and will be distributed to 50,000 of the nation's leading employers. In a foreword in this publication President Truman urges the hiring of veterans so that they may "have a chance to work out their own destiny. They do not want a dole." Employers are asked to take immediate steps to establish organized programs for veteran hiring.

PRESERVE PRESENT CAR

No need to count on that new car for this year's summer vacation trip. Henry Ford II says it will be 18 months at least before a prospective car buyer can walk into a dealer's show room and pick out the car of his choice. Even though the steel strike is over, it will be some time before his company's plants will be in full operation, and the implication is that other makes will be delayed as long or longer.

Sometimes we find ourselves wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea to send a batch of local talent down to Washington and let 'em legislate for a spell.

THE SAGA OF NICK BEZ

Since I called attention to the amazing ability of Nick Bez to become the chosen instrument of the government of the United States for fishing operations in Bering Sea, I have received considerable correspondence concerning the man. Much of it is favorable. He is described as a leading Democrat in the state of Washington, an associate of Governor Wallgren and Senator Magnuson, a factor in state politics, a shrewd citizen and an able business man. So he is the chosen instrument for a transaction in fishing which will cost the United States a total of $3,750,000.

But there is another side to Nick Bez. He is the treasurer of the United Committee of South Slavic Americans—that is, Yugoslavs—which is a propaganda organization founded about three years ago to popularize Marshal Tito, the Communist dictator of Yugoslavia. This organization says in its prospectus:

"Unfortunately, our State Department has been, up till now, woefully lacking in appreciation for and understanding of the stupendous achievements of the Yugoslav people, who are showing the same remarkable qualities of courage, resourcefulness, imagination, self-reliance in the postwar period as during the four years of their epic struggle. Under the inspired leadership of Marshal Tito, the Yugoslavs are performing miracles. . . . So, the organization of which Mr. Nick Bez, the chosen instrument of the United States, is treasurer, does not like the State Department's attitude toward Tito. As regards domestic affairs, it has this to say:

"The government has failed to take effective steps to prepare for the necessarily difficult transition from a war—to a peacetime economy. Our leaders are yielding to the steady pressure of vested interests and therefore seem to be chiefly interested in reducing taxes for the high-income brackets, abandoning price controls, removing wartime restrictions from industry and getting the boys back home as quickly as possible. Consequently labor feels it has been left to fend for itself, and so has recourse to its only weapon, the strike."

In one publication, this committee says: "Outside of the Soviet Union Yugoslavia is the only country in the world that makes incitement of national and religious hatreds a criminal offense. . . ."

Of course, nothing in this statement says anything about some 250 religious sects of all kinds, types and magnitudes which live together in the United States in freedom and without government interference. In fact, in none of the publications of this committee do I find anything favorable to the United States, although Soviet Russia is advertised as quite a place. It made me wonder why Nick Bez did not ask Soviet Russia to back him to the tune of $3,750,000.

In answer to a question, "Is Tito a Russian Agent?" this committee of which Nick Bez is treasurer, says, "No! (Tito) does not say why not on page 11 where the question is asked, but on page 10 they explain:

"Tito's real name is Josip Broz. A Croatian and former metal worker in Zagreb, he is in his middle fifties. During World War I he was compelled to serve (for awhile) in the Austro-Hungarian army and in 1915 he went over to the Russians along with thousands of other South Slavic soldiers. For three years in the Russian civil war where he learned methods of Partisan warfare. Returning to Croatia in '23, he became a labor leader. . . . According to Nick Bez's Committee, Tito was trained in Soviet Russia's Red Army and actually participated in the Russian civil war on Russian soil. The only foreigners permitted to do that were members of the Communist Party. . . . Dimitrov of Bulgaria and Josip Broz of Yugoslavia were among the few non-Russians who were part of the Russian Bolshevik apparatus."

There can be no objection to Nick Bez's association with the United Committee of South Slavic Americans nor to the existence of the committee itself. This country is full of such committees. But what puzzles me is why this country has selected as a chosen instrument the treasurer of this organization that so ardently supports Marshal Tito, formerly of Soviet Russia's Red Army, to fish the Bering Sea? Were no Americans, not so related, available for this $3,750,000 enterprise? (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

METHODS OF CURING PINWORMS

Notwithstanding the various effective methods of getting rid of pinworms there are many families whose members seem to be always afflicted. This is because when treatment is given it is not given to the whole household every member of which, children, and adults, may affect one another.

While the little worm, like a piece of white thread, can often be found in the stool it is sometimes not discovered, but certain symptoms should make parents suspect pinworms. There is itching at anus (lower opening of bowel) worse at night; disturbed sleep; extreme irritability; burning pain; feeling of fullness in lower bowel as if bowels wanted to move; frequent desire to pass urine; restlessness; lack of appetite and thin blood.

Until recently the treatment of pinworms was by santonin and calomel which help to drive the worms from intestine. These followed just a few years ago treatment by enemas of infusions of quassia chips. Two ounces of quassia chips are placed in a quart of water and the water boiled down to a pint. The quassia chips are strained out and the water (infusion) used as an enema. This is repeated every morning for a week.

Even more recently is treatment by gentian violet tablets. The dose is 3-20 grain for each apparent year. This dose is divided into two or three portions given one hour before meals. Older children and adults are given 1/2 grain three times daily for eight days, a rest period of one week and then daily treatment for another eight days. "Gentian violet is not given to patients with severe heart, liver, or kidney disease."

I am again mentioning the above methods (a) santonin and calomel, (b) infusion of quassia chips, and (c) gentian violet tablets because one method may help and the others not.

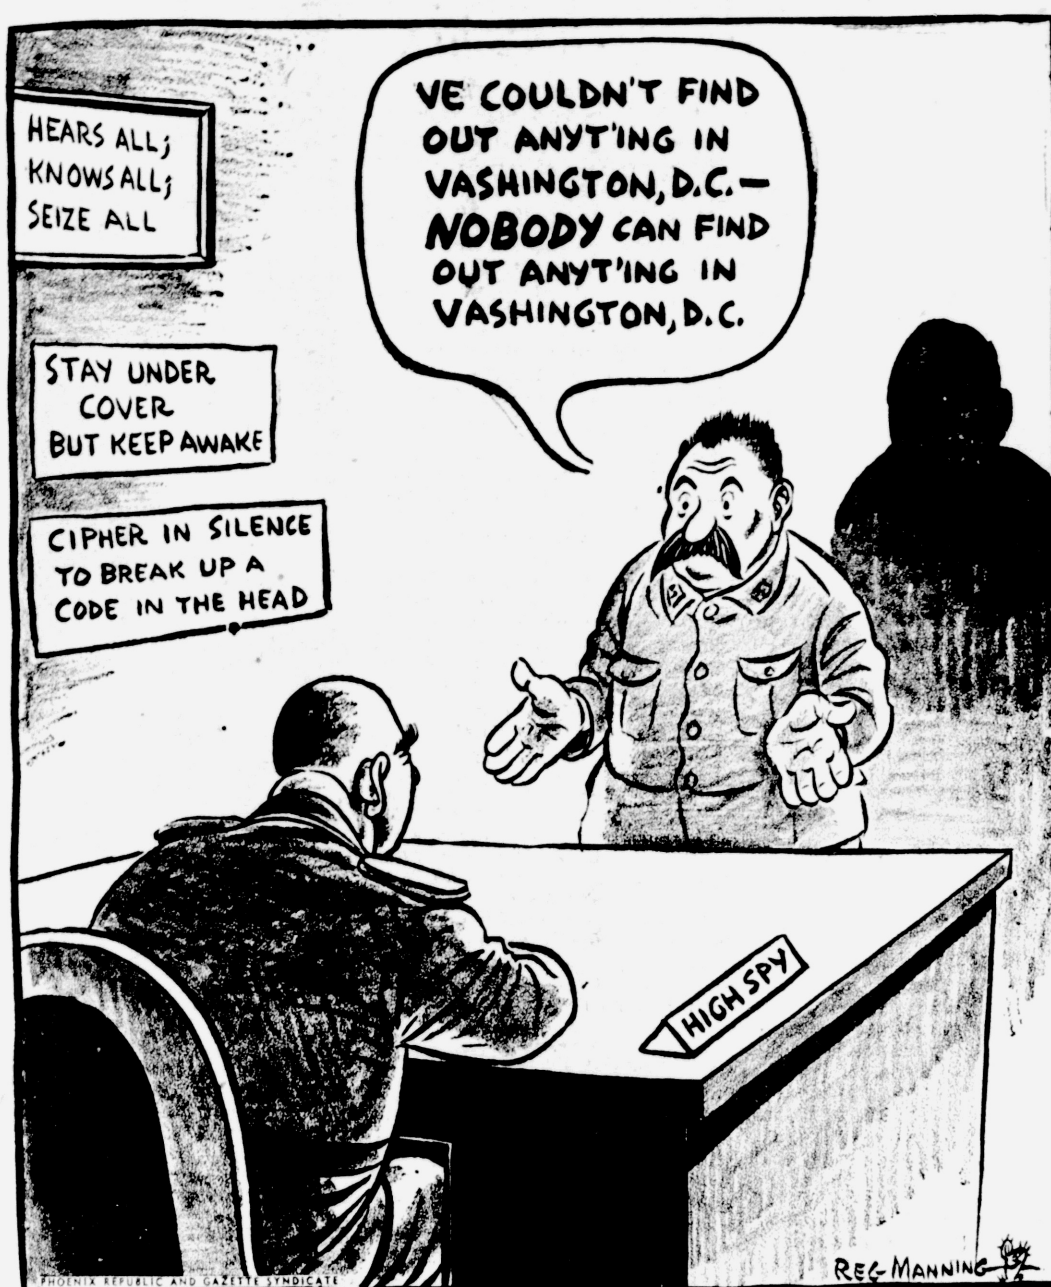

Another method of killing pinworms which appeared in the North Carolina Medical Journal is 2 grams daily of phenothiazine for a week, a rest for a week, then 2 grams daily for another week.

A salt water enema, teaspoon of table salt to pint of water, each night before retiring will, in most cases, cure pinworm infection if continued daily for three weeks."

Newark, N. J. (P)—You probably won't hear many students complaining about this, but publishers of school books are so far behind "it will take years" to catch up with the demand. William V. Livingood of Hillsdale, editor-in-chief of a large textbook publishing firm, says the reasons are: shortage of paper, an increased demand and catching up with the retrenchment years during the depression when schools got along with what books they had.

A Foreign Spy Reports

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

The arrival of the ferryboat Richmond to be used on the Kingston-Rhincliff ferry route across the Hudson river on Saturday, recalls to mind that there has been ferry service across the river between this city and Rhincliff for hundreds of years.

The Rhincliff and Kingston Ferry Co., which ceased operations in 1942, had a charter that extended back to the days of Queen Anne of England.

For a number of years before there was a ferry terminal in the Rondout creek the Kingston terminal was at Kingston Point, and the old ferryboat Lark plied on the run.

I doubt if there are any now living who will recall the years when the Lark made the regular run back and forth across the river.

Turning from ferry service to local theatricals the C. I. C. Class of the Fair Street Reformed Church Sunday school on December 8, 1926, presented two plays in the lecture room of the church.

The first was a three act comedy entitled "Tom's Finance" and in the cast were Mrs. Frances Wood, Mrs. Lydia Rich, Caroline Van Keuren, Ruth Rich and Mary Richter.

The second play was "Sardines," a one act farce in which appeared Alice McLaughlin, Isabel Swartwout, Isabelle Herdman, Mrs. Greta Budd and Nellie Woolsey.

An operetta "The Japanese Girl" was presented by a group of high school students under the auspices of the Athletic Association on December 10, 1926.

The principals in the cast included Genevieve Main, Roberta Avery, Edna Hall, Dolorita Rist, Vivian Kloth, Elsie Gill, Eleanor Sax and Katherine Tremper.

Priscilla Davis gave solo dances between the acts.

Richard Dawe, for many years active in the religious, fraternal and musical life of Kingston, died on December 13, 1926, in his home on Lawrence street, aged 74 years.

Mr. Dawe was born in England and came to this country in 1873, making his home in this city. During the silver rush to Colorado in the early 1880's, Mr. Dawe was one of the men from this city who went to the silver mines, but was forced to return to Kingston in 1877 by the death of his first wife.

About 1880 he entered into partnership with his brother-in-law, William Williams, and began the work of operating one of the quarries of the old Newark Lime & Cement Co. in Ponchokkie, and continued in that business until the work of mining the quarries was abandoned.

In 1914 he was appointed to serve as superintendent of the city hall during the administration of Palmer Canfield as mayor. He held the post for a number of years.

Mr. Dawe was a noted baritone singer and for years was soloist in the Wurts Street Baptist Church. He also sang in other city churches, and appeared in many musical shows and entertainments in the city.

For years he was teacher of a class of boys in the Baptist church and a member of the Baracca Class.

Fraternally Mr. Dawe was a member of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and Kosciuszko Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

On the basis of present prices, philatelic-minded admirers of the late President Roosevelt can build up a nominal cost a specialized collection of stamps issued in his honor. Latest of the Roosevelt memorial stamps to reach the market are Haiti's two gray-black airmails similar in design, illustrated below.

Of the 15 stamps issued by this country and Liberia, Greece and Haiti to honor the late President, only one, Liberia's 70-cent airmail, sells now for more than one dollar for single copies or sets.

The Haitian stamp is quoted at more than $3, although two of the regular postal values of the same set sell for less than 25 cents. The Haitian stamps are priced by dealers at less than 50 cents and the three Greek stamps at less than $1.

The United States stamps are a quarter of four and the five-cent United Nations Conference stamp bearing his name—can be obtained at face value, of course.

A Roosevelt collection also properly should include seven other stamps bearing his portrait, but not issued to mark his death. These are Guatemala's 1936 souvenir sheet commemorating the 150th anniversary of the United States constitution, Brazil's 1940 stamp marking the 50th anniversary of the Pan-American Union, Turkey's 1939 U. S. Constitution commemorative stamp which pictured Mr. Roosevelt on two stamps and Colombia's three overprints issued last summer to mark the victory over Germany.

Investigation of the possibility of making the honorable discharge emblem stamp bi-colored is one reason given by Post Office Department officials for the delay in announcing the design and other details of the forthcoming three-cent stamp. A departure from customary three-cent stamps, the two-colored stamp would present the discharge emblem in its gold color.

Meanwhile, first day sale figures for the Merchant Marine stamp place it second among the stamps of the Armed Service series in total covers cancelled and third in stamps sold. The 43¢2½ covers cancelled ranks behind only the Navy commemorative while the total of 2,295,575 stamps sold was surpassed only by the two Jima Marine and the Army stamps.

A wartime overprint on four Bulgarian stamps picturing King Boris urged the Bulgars to "Collect Every Kind of Rags," "Collect Old Iron," and "Collect Discarded Paper." . . . The Dominican Republic has issued four postage and one airmail stamp to commemorate adoption of its national anthem. . . . Swiss postal authorities have authorized the dual designation of "Biel-Bienne" as the postmark for the manufacturing city of Biel because of its large number of French-speaking residents. . . . Martinez Enriquez Irrigoyen, credited with founding Mexico's postal service, is pictured on a new eight-centavos black stamp of Mexico.

United States Will Guard Atomic Secrets Closely As Long As Russia Works on Development

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 26—Much has been noted recently about spy rings seeking information about the atomic bomb but little suspicion has been aroused apparently by the peculiar outburst which arises every now and then from various quarters inside and outside the United States demanding that the secret be given up.

The commonest argument is that the secret will be obtained by Russia anyway in five years. Russian dispatches try hard to give the impression that the Soviet already has the secret. Even in America many well intentioned persons with scientific background, whose patriotism is not in the least open to question, contend that the Russians inevitably will have the secret and hence it should be shared with them now.

But the oddest part of the controversy is the glib way that various folk talk about the atomic bomb as if they really knew the secret themselves. How many of the persons who declare that Russia will have the secret in due time know what the secret is or what basis there is for the assumption that other nations ever will obtain it through their own experiments?

Perhaps the most authoritative and significant information available on the subject is the state of Major General Leslie B. Groves, director of the atomic project, who in the last few days in a press conference at Los Angeles declared the secret was safe from any spy ring. He said:

Like Jigsaw Puzzle
"The bomb project is a little like a giant jigsaw puzzle with 100,000 pieces. A chance betrayal by one of our scientists might reveal five or ten pieces out of the 100,000 but that would mean almost nothing."

Here is one of the few men in America who really knows all about the atomic bomb. Indeed it is not known how many do know the entire secret. That in itself is a secret as well as the identity of the persons who have all the knowledge.

A distinction has to be drawn between atomic energy as such and the atomic bomb itself. Undoubtedly the secrets of atomic energy will be known to all scientists in a relatively short time, but this is a far different thing from knowing how to use it in an atomic bomb or how to drop or detonate one of those bombs without killing the persons who carry it or how to detonate it in such a way that it will be destructive, as was the case at Hiroshima.

U. S. Will Keep Secret
For decades atomic energy has been studied and for decades the idea of an atomic bomb has been discussed by military scientists, but not until last year, when the United States completed the most extensive experimental project the world has ever known, did scientists learn for the first time something about how the theory can turn out in actual practice. Further experiments are not only costly but could be very risky to the experimenters.

The atomic bomb is not likely to be turned over to any foreign government, nor is it likely to be given to the United Nations despite the proposals toward that end. History shows that the secrets of military weapons are kept very well even by democracies and the giving up of the atomic-bomb secret in its entirety is already regarded about as unlikely a condition which it is very unlikely will ever be met—such as international inspection.

The Russians do not even allow newspapermen from other nations to come and go at will in their country, though Russian newspapermen without limit can come into America. The government here does not make public the names of students, scholars, scientists and similar personnel when seeking entrance for cultural reasons only. Hence it seems improbable that Russia will ever be willing to satisfy the requirement that rigid inspection by outside governments be allowed at all times to see what is being done with the atomic bomb, how many are being manufactured and for what purposes.

The United States has offered to turn over the secret under specified conditions, but it is a foregone conclusion that these will not be met—at least not so long as Russia or any other country thinks it can develop the bomb of its own accord. Such government ceases to be a totalitarian government and becomes subject to the popular will to the extent that war-making is not left in the hands of a single man or clique, there is little chance that any military secrets will ever be shared by this country with that type of government.

Propagandists no doubt will agitate for the release of the secret—and the demand will come largely from those Left-Wingers who are sympathetic with the totalitarian government at Moscow. It may mislead well-meaning persons who think appeasement of Russian totalitarianism is desirable, but it will not affect the Congress of the United States, which will never vote to surrender the atomic bomb secret so long as "security" is involved. UNRRA Seeks Curb on Armies Living Off Occupied Land

Atlantic City, N. J., March 26 (AP)—A sharp curb on the practice of liberating armies "living off the land" was demanded today in a United States move aimed primarily at the Red Army, but gauged broadly enough to cover the activities of all armed forces. The United States proposed to the 48 members of UNRRA's Council that they adopt the principle that their military forces refrain from requisitioning foodstuffs—other than perishable fruits and vegetables—or using "for other supplies" included in the UNRRA relief program. Without mentioning the purpose, this country simultaneously advocated a barrier against use of relief supplies by liberating forces by proposing a ban against "impeding in any way the equitable distribution of imported and indigenous relief supplies."

Bankruptcy Predicted For Every Japanese

Tokyo, March 26 (AP)—The editors of Yomiuri Hochi looked at Mr. Average Japanese Citizen today and reported that although his income is 800 yen monthly his expenses are 1,335 yen. Under anti-inflation regulations the worker may draw only 500 yen for his livelihood, but his wife and three children are permitted an additional 100 yen each, or a total of 900 yen—if he had it. Because normal markets have insufficient supplies and he is busy in black markets, essential foods alone cost the family 1,000 yen a month, Yomiuri reported.

Mr. Citizen meets his bills, the editors said, by selling his wife's kimono and other family clothing. That, it observed, will continue until all branches of the family are bankrupt.

Need Police Help

Pittsburgh, March 26 (AP)—State police were summoned today by Allegheny County Sheriff Walter C. Monaghan to help maintain order at the Westinghouse Electric Corporation's struck plant in east Pittsburgh after a crowd of on-lookers boomed and jostled supervisors entering the plant.

New Sugar Stamp Racket Disclosed By District O.P.A.

Lester W. Herzog, district director, O.P.A., stated today that a new racket in sugar stamps had been uncovered. Individuals were cutting the 3 off the 39 Sparc stamps and using the cut stamp for a No. 9 sugar stamp.

He advised all sellers that they must tear these stamps out of the ration books themselves in order to avoid getting charged with accepting these invalid stamps. The grocer could tell these cut stamps because they were not as long as the regular stamp and had a small black edge instead of a large one. He stated, however, that the amount of business done by the average seller makes it difficult to examine each stamp and they could protect themselves by refusing to accept a No. 9 stamp unless it was in the book. This would create no hardship on anyone as certainly no one could claim he or she had previously torn the stamp out of the book as it was not validated until a short time ago.

Herzog states these cut stamps would be disclosed in the Verification Center and immediately charged back to the seller and would not be replaced. He also stated that purchasers were not benefiting themselves inasmuch as it was generally understood that Sparc stamp No. 39 would be validated later on and the use of it by mutilation would mean there would be no stamp to use when such validation occurs.

59-Year-Old Eyes for 14-Month-Old Baby

New York, March 26 (AP)—A 14-month-old baby, blind from birth, now is seeing through 59-year-old eyes which were bequeathed to science by Miss Tobey when she died last September, a hospital spokesman said today.

Miss Tobey's eyes were removed and shipped to the Eye Institute of the Presbyterian Hospital where an operation was performed to transfer the corneas to the eyes of the baby, then eight months old. The operation is considered successful; the baby can see, although he must return for observation for several more months before final judgment is made.

The name of the baby was not disclosed. Miss Tobey's action was prompted by the suffering of a nephew who was the victim of an eye affliction for years.

In her will, the Stamford, Conn., woman said: "When life leaves my body, I want to provide a happier life for someone living by donating my eyes to science."

7,000 British G.I. Brides Seem to Dislike Travel

London, March 26 (AP)—The U. S. Army Transport Command said today 4,000 G.I. brides who applied for transportation to join their husbands in the United States had changed their minds as sailing time neared.

Most of them failed to complete the final questionnaires required for passage. It was estimated that 7,000 British girls who married American servicemen had not registered for transportation. Altogether, 43,000 applications have been received from brides and children and about 18,000 have sailed, the Transport Command said, adding that it hoped to have the others in the United States by July.

As soon as the peak of the movement has been reached, an army spokesman said, "we will try to find the lost girls."

Army Smoke Generators To Fight Frost, Insects

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Smoke apparatus developed by the Army to hide troop movements will be tested for its possibilities in protecting crops against frost and insects.

The War Department said today 16 mechanical smoke generators are being borrowed by the Agriculture Department for test at 14 stations throughout the country—in fruit, cotton, tobacco and wheat producing areas.

SUCH A PRESENT SURELY WILL BE VALUED

The following letter is perhaps more typical of yesterday than today, but even so it is not unusual: "I am the waitress for a prominent family and am acting as spokesman for three of us who have lived with this family since the daughter was a little girl. She is being married soon. There will be a large church wedding and a reception here at the house. We would like to give the bride one wedding present from the three of us and one other, our cook who has been here only a year."

Should we write a message on the card to be enclosed with the present? What should it say? Would it be best to give the present to the bride personally or have it sent to her from the store? Can you suggest what would be nicest for us to give her?

The gift should be something permanent, of silver perhaps for her table—sugar tongs, salt spoons, tea strainer, an ash tray or a serving spoon—or perhaps something for her dressing or bed table, such as a little box for whatever you know she uses.

Choose an appropriate greeting card to enclose with it and sign your names in the order of length of employment. The one who has been there longest should be at the head of the list. Whether you send it from the store or give it to her personally depends upon what you prefer to do.

Insist Russia, Iran Give Details

founder" but said he would not go into them at once because "there is no need" to take the Iranian question before the Council.

Mr. A. J. A. and his aides were seated a few feet away from the curved council table in the spectators section of the rose-tinted council chamber at Hunter College, in the Bronx. The raven-haired Gromyko, speaking in Russian, was behind the table lined up with the 10 other members.

He spoke after Council President Quo Tai Chi of China had swept aside as unready for action technical details of the agenda of the immediate council session, second in America, and plunged the peace-enforcement agency into discussion of the tangled Iranian issue.

Both American and British representatives had made it plain before the meeting that they intended to insist on a full and immediate report from the Soviet Union and Iran on what they have agreed to about getting Red Army troops out of the middle eastern area. Gromyko had let it be known that, barring new instructions from Moscow, he would seek to block any immediate consideration.

Great Powers Split Again

The great powers went into today's meeting split along the usual line but split much less seriously than if Russian troops had not been at the time already withdrawing from Iran.

The Soviet council got around to describing Iranian charges as unfair for council consideration after E. J. Gilmore's letter from Prime Minister Stalin's statement on the situation last night was interpreted as leaving little prospect of that.

Stalin said the question of withdrawing Russian troops from Iran was a central issue raised in the Iranian complaint filed with the Council last week—is now a closed matter because they are being withdrawn under a Soviet-Iranian agreement.

Secretary of State Byrnes is understood to feel there is no need to raise now the fact that they should have been out by March 2. Although some British officials are still hammering on this point, Byrnes is ready to insist that the Soviet-Iranian agreement should be brought before the Council at once for study and possible approval or disapproval.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British representative on the Council, fully shares this view, informants said. Gromyko, on the other hand, was reported still standing on the proposal he made last week that the whole question should be put off until April 10, and barring new instructions he had no alternative but to make that argument before the Council.

Fireworks Promised

Today's session was scheduled for 11 a. m. (E.S.T.) and promised to produce the fireworks which failed to show up at the opening meeting yesterday after Gromyko finally agreed not to press for postponement until today.

Financial and Commercial

By VICTOR EUBANK

New York, March 26 (AP)—Assorted rails and industrials continued to make headway over the recovery road in today's stock market although many leaders seemed fatigued by the recent climb.

The fact that the 60-stock average had regained about 70 per cent of the February slump tended to exert a cautionary influence and cause a certain amount of profit cashing. The somewhat brighter foreign picture and persistent Wall street hopes of a bulge in price ceilings again inspired much of the bidding.

Deals, fast at the opening, slowed later. Extreme gains running to better than a point were trimmed here and there near the fourth hour and a smattering of losers was in evidence. Some losers steadied.

Ahead most of the day were Youngtown Sheet, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, North American, Anaconda, Distillers Corp., American Distilling, Radio Corp., Standard Oil of Cal., Texas Co., Southern Railway and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Coal Miners May Quit This Week in Contract Demand

U.M.W. locals now are dissatisfied.

On Lewis' demands that compensation laws be forced, the operators proposed that all coal companies accept Workmen's Compensation laws in any states where such acceptance is optional.

Along this same line, the industry suggested a joint operator-union committee in each coal producing state to study mining laws and propose such safety amendments as they deem necessary.

The final proposal suggested that the union pay $1 a man per day to the operators for each day of a strike in violation of contract. In return, the operators would agree to pay damages at the rate of $1 a man per day to the union affected for each day of a lock-out.

Wartime Rationing Not Recommended By UNRRA Council

By ALEX SINGLETON

Atlantic City, N. J., March 26 (AP)—Sources close to the British and American delegations at an UNRRA council meeting reported today that the international relief organization would not recommend universal return to wartime rationing of food.

The decision was reached, these sources said, within the Council's committee on supplies which has been meeting almost continuously behind closed doors since this 48-nation conference got together.

Director General Herbert Lehman had told the UNRRA, that a return to the wartime controls would save the lives of countless thousands.

As an alternative to his plea, the committee was understood to be planning a recommendation under which supplying countries—those with food available for relief elsewhere—would take over the responsibility of meeting UNRRA requirements.

This, in the case of the United States for example, might mean an indirect rationing—that this country, in collecting its share of UNRRA's requirements, would obtain the food from producers before it reached the people.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Roy Hendrickson, deputy director general for the organization, had left for Washington with a copy of the report.

Delegates speculated on the possibility he would take it either to the White House or to Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson for approval.

Anderson himself has said that he believed return to rationing would be impractical.

Although there was no official confirmation, it was reported reliably that the supply committee's endorsement of his position was backed by the Latin-American delegations.

Investigating a report from Port Even Monday evening that a light had been noticed in a bungalow owned by New York city people, Deputy Sheriff Leonard Ellisworth found the light burning as reported, but the bungalow was locked up with a padlock on the door. Evidently the family had gone back to the city unaware of the fact that they had left a light burning. The property is owned by a Mr. Felsing.

Von Ribbentrop Pleads Innocent to Charges

Nuernberg, March 26 (AP)—

Joachim Von Ribbentrop told the International Military Tribunal today he accepted full responsibility for his acts as Foreign Minister of Germany, but was pleading innocent on all counts of the war crimes indictment.

The gaunt, silver-haired Nazi followed the example of Hermann Goerring and Rudolph Hess in opening his personal defense.

The court ruled out defense evidence intended to prove that the Versailles Treaty was unjust and signed by Germany "under duress." Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, British prosecutor, said the defense claim was "completely remote, irrelevant and beyond the terms of the Tribunal's charter."

Defense attorneys had launched an attack upon the treaty and the prosecution's charge that the Nazis conspired to break the treaty with the aim of waging aggressive war.

NAMES AND FAME

Families, like individuals, are sometimes better remembered for their defects than for the good deeds they have done. The Esterhazys, whose large estates the Russians are breaking up, are one of Hungary's great families, dating back to the 13th century. They have included generals and diplomats, and have always been high in the councils of the government. They are known to musicians as patrons of that art. Yet the best known member was none of these, but the scapegrace who figured in the Dreyfus case.

In this case, which almost destroyed the French Republic in the 1890's, Major Alfred Dreyfus, a Jew, was accused of having sold military secrets to Germany, and on the strength of a document which he was supposed to have written, was convicted and sent to the horrible prison camp of Devil's Island.

Many who came in contact with the case were not convinced of his guilt, and finally succeeded in gaining a new trial. Ultimately Dreyfus was freed of all charges, and the high army officers who framed him to protect their own infallibility committed suicide or were otherwise disgraced. The document in the case was proved to have been written by Major Walsin Esterhazy of the famous Hungarian family, who had become a French officer. Esterhazy fled to England, where he died in 1923.

Thus one scoundrel can taint an honored name.

STALIN STATEMENT

Generalissimo Stalin says he doesn't want war. Moreover, he doesn't believe any other nations want war. He does believe by supporting the U.N.O. and by pouring out our own deep belief in peace, to counteract the vicious propaganda for war, we can keep the peace and move toward better life.

Now if the Russian performance matches up to the promise, all will be well. The anxiety of the past few weeks has had the effect of directing a keener attention to the meeting of the U.N.O. Security Council. And the attention of the individual to his governmental works is what keeps them functioning properly. The interest of citizens is the only thing that can make the U.N.O. succeed.

POOR ELECTIONEERING

A good deal of fun has been poked at the Ohio candidate who threw 150 pairs of Nylons at a crowd as an electioneering stunt. But it was not funny. Most women getting hose that way would be apt to view the giver with contempt rather than with favor. Ability to get scarce articles in quantity and give them away to get votes does not indicate qualities of mind or character desirable in the governor of Ohio or any other state. Or in the candidate for any public office.

JOBS FOR VETERANS

A new guide on veteran employment has been prepared by the Department of Labor and will be distributed to 50,000 of the nation's leading employers. In a foreword in this publication President Truman urges the hiring of veterans so that they may "have a chance to work out their own destiny. They do not want a dole." Employers are asked to take immediate steps to establish organized programs for veteran hiring.

PRESERVE PRESENT CAR

No need to count on that new car for this year's summer vacation trip. Henry Ford II says it will be 18 months at least before a prospective car buyer can walk into a dealer's show room and pick out the car of his choice. Even though the steel strike is over, it will be some time before his company's plants will be in full operation, and the implication is that other makes will be delayed as long or longer.

Sometimes we find ourselves wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea to send a batch of local talent down to Washington and let 'em legislate for a spell.

'These Days'

THE SAGA OF NICK BEZ

Since I called attention to the amazing ability of Nick Bez to become the chosen instrument of the government of the United States for fishing operations in Bering Sea, I have received considerable correspondence concerning the man. Much of it is favorable. He is described as a leading Democrat in the state of Washington, an associate of Governor Wallgren and Senator Magnuson, a factor in state politics, a shrewd citizen and an able business man. So he is the chosen instrument for a transaction in fishing which will cost the United States a total of $3,750,000.

But there is another side to Nick Bez. He is the treasurer of the United Committee of South Slavic Americans—that is, Yugoslavs—which is a propaganda organization founded about three years ago to popularize Marshal Tito, the Communist dictator of Yugoslavia. This organization says in its prospectus:

"Unfortunately, our State Department has been, up till now, woefully lacking in appreciation for and understanding of the stupendous achievements of the Yugoslav people, who are showing the same remarkable qualities of courage, resourcefulness, independence, self-reliance in the postwar period as during the four years of their epic struggle. Under the inspired leadership of Marshal Tito, the Yugoslavs are performing miracles."

So, the organization of which Mr. Nick Bez, the chosen instrument of the United States, is treasurer, does not like the State Department's attitude toward Tito. As regards domestic affairs, it has this to say:

"The government has failed to take effective steps to prepare for the necessarily difficult transition from a war to a peacetime economy. Our leaders are yielding to the steady pressure of vested interests and thereby are being chiefly interested in reducing taxes for the high-income brackets, abandoning price controls, removing wartime restrictions from industry and getting the boys back home as quickly as possible. Consequently labor feels it has been left to fend for itself, and so has recourse to its only weapon, the strike."

In one publication, this committee says:

"Outside of the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia is the only country in the world that makes incitement of national and religious hatreds a criminal offense."

Of course, nothing in this statement says anything about some 250 religious sects of all kinds, types and magnitudes which live together in the United States in freedom and without government interference. In fact, in none of the publications of this committee do I find anything favorable to the United States, although Soviet Russia is advertised as quite a place. It made me wonder why Nick Bez did not ask Soviet Russia to back him to the tune of $3,750,000.

In answer to a question, "Is Tito a Russian Agent?" this committee of which Nick Bez is treasurer, says: No! They do not say why not on page 11 where the question is asked, but on page 10 they explain:

"Tito's real name is Josip Broz. A Croatian and former metal worker in Zagreb, he is in his middle fifties. During World War I he was compelled to serve (for awhile) in the Austro-Hungarian army and in 1915 he went over to the Russians along with thousands of other South Slavs. He fought for three years in the Russian civil war where he learned methods of Partisan warfare. Returning to Croatia in '23, he became a labor leader. According to Nick Bez's Committee, Tito was trained in Soviet Russia's Red Army and actually participated in the Russian civil war on Russian soil. The only foreigners permitted to do that were members of the Communist Party. Georgi Dimitroff of Bulgaria and Josip Broz of Yugoslavia were among the few non-Russians who were part of the Russian Bolshevik apparatus."

There can be no objection to Nick Bez's association with the United Committee of South Slavic Americans nor to the existence of the committee itself. This country is full of such committees. But what puzzles me is why this country has selected as a chosen instrument the treasurer of this committee.

Tito, formerly of Soviet Russia's Red Army, to fish the Bering Sea? Were no Americans, not so related, available for this $3,750,000 enterprise? (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THAT BODY OF YOURS

METHODS OF CURING PINWORMS

Notwithstanding the various effective methods of getting rid of pinworms there are many families whose members seem to be always afflicted. This is because when treatment is given it is not given to the whole household every member of which, children, and adults, may affect one another.

While the little worm, like a piece of white thread, can often be found in the stool it is sometimes not discovered, but certain symptoms should make parents suspect pinworms. There is itching at anus (lower opening of bowel) worse at night; disturbed sleep; extreme irritability; burning pain; feeling of fullness in lower bowel as if bowels wanted to move, frequent desire to pass urine, restlessness; lack of appetite and thin blood.

Until recently the treatment of pinworms was by salinatory and calomel which help to drive the worms from intestine. These followed just a few years ago treatment by enemas of infusions of quassia chips. Two ounces of quassia chips are placed in a quart of water and the water boiled down to a pint. The quassia chips are strained out and the water infusion used as an enema. This is repeated every morning for a week.

Let tablets. The dose is 5 to 20 grains for a child of 1 year. This dose is divided into two or three portions given one hour before meals. Older children and adults are given 15 grains three times daily for eight days, a rest period of one week and then daily treatment for another eight days. "Gentian violet" is not given to patients with severe heart, liver, or kidney disease.

I am again mentioning the above methods (a) salinatory and calomel, (b) infusion of quassia chips, and (c) gentian violet tablets because one method may help and the others not.

Another method of killing pinworms, which appeared in the North Carolina Medical Journal in 1942, is the use of phenothiazine. This is a white crystalline powder, soluble in water, and is given in a dose of 1/2 grain three times daily for a week, then 1 grain three times daily for a week, and then 2 grains three times daily for a week.

"A salt water enema, followed by a pint of water, each night before going to bed, will in most cases cure pinworm infection if continued daily for three weeks."

"At Century's Turn"

The arrival of the ferryboat Richmond to be used on the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry route across the Hudson river on Saturday, recalls to mind that there has been ferry service across the river between this city and Rhinecliff for hundreds of years.

The Rhinecliff and Kingston Ferry Co., which ceased operations in 1912, had a charter that extended back to the days of Queen Anne of England.

For a number of years before there was a ferry terminal in the Rondout creek the Kingston terminal was at Kingston Point, and the old ferryboat Lark plied on the river.

I doubt if there are any now living who will recall the years when the Lark made the regular run back and forth across the river.

Turning from ferry service to local theatricals the C. I. C. Class of the Fair Street Reformed Church Sunday school on December 8, 1926, presented two plays in the lecture room of the church.

The first was a three act comedy entitled "Tom's Finance" and in the cast were Mrs. Frances Wood, Mrs. Lydia Rich, Caroline Van Keuren, Ruth Ritch and Mary Richter.

The second play was "Sardines," a one act farce in which appeared Alice McLaughlin, Isabel Swartwout, Isabelle Herdman, Mrs. Greta Budd and Nellie Woolsey.

An operetta "The Japanese Girl" was presented by a group of high school students under the auspices of the Athletic Association on December 10, 1926.

The principals in the cast included Genevieve Main, Roberta Avery, Edna Hall, Dolorita Rist, Vivian Klotz, Elsie Gill, Eleanor Saxe and Katherine Tremper.

Priscilla Davis gave solo dances between the acts.

Richard Dawe, for many years active in the religious, fraternal and musical life of Kingston, died on December 13, 1926, in his home on Lawrence street, aged 74 years.

Mr. Dawe was born in England and came to this country in 1873, making his home in this city. During the silver rush to Colorado in the early 1880's, Mr. Dawe was one of the men from this city who went to the silver mines, but was forced to return to Kingston in 1877 by the death of his first wife.

About 1880 he entered into partnership with his brother-in-law, William Williams, and began the work of operating one of the quarries of the old New York Lime & Cement Co., in Ponckhockie, and continued in that business until the work of mining the quarries was abandoned.

In 1914 he was appointed to serve as superintendent of the city hall, and was later appointed to the position of Palmer Canfield as mayor. He held the post for a number of years.

Mr. Dawe was a noted baritone singer and for years was soloist in the Wurts Street Baptist Church. He also sang in other city churches, and appeared in many musical shows and entertainments in the city.

For years he was teacher of a class of boys in the Baptist church and a member of the Baracca Class.

Externally Mr. Dawe was a member of Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and Koseusku Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Stamps

IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

On the basis of present prices, philatelic-minded admirers of the late President Roosevelt can build up at a nominal cost a specialized collection of stamps issued in his honor. Latest of the Roosevelt memorial stamps to reach the market are Haiti's two gray-black airmails similar in design, illustrated below.

Of the 15 stamps issued by this country and Liberia, Greece and Haiti to honor the late President, only one, Liberia's 70-cent airmail, sells now for more than one dollar for single copies or sets.

The Liberian stamp is quoted at more than $3 although two regular postage values of the same set sell for less than 25 cents. The Haitian stamps are priced by dealers at less than 50 cents and the three Greek stamps at less than $1.

The United States stamps—the memorial set of four and the five-cent United Nations Conference stamp bearing his name—can be obtained at face value, of course.

A Roosevelt collection also properly should include seven other stamps bearing his portrait but not issued to mark his death. These are Guatemala's 1938 souvenir sheet commemorating the 150th anniversary of the United States constitution, Brazil's 1940 stamp marking the 50th anniversary of the Pan-American Union, Turkey's 1939 U. S. Constitution commemorative issue which pictured Mr. Roosevelt on two stamps and Colombia's three overprints issued last summer to mark the victory over Germany.

Investigation of the possibility of making the honorable discharge emblem stamp bi-colored is one reason given by Post Office Department officials for the delay in announcing the design and other details of the forthcoming three-cent stamp. A departure from customary three-cent stamps, the two-colored stamp would present the "discharge emblem in its gold color."

Meanwhile, first day sale figures for the Merchant Marine stamp place it second among the stamps of the Armed Service series in total covers cancelled and third in stamps sold. The 432,212 covers cancelled ranks behind only the Navy commemorative while the total of 2,235,575 stamps sold was surpassed only by the two Jima Marine and the Army stamps.

A wartime overprint on four Bulgarian stamps picturing King Boris urged the Bulgars to "Collect Every Kind of Rags," "Collect Old Iron" and "Collect Discarded Paper." . . . The Dominican Republic has issued four postage and one airmail stamp to commemorate adoption of its national anthem. . . . Swiss postal authorities have authorized the dual designation of "Biel-Bienne" as the postmark for the manufacturing city of Biel because of its large number of French-speaking residents. . . . Martinez Enriquez, irrigator, credited with founding Mexico's postal service, is pictured on a new eight centavos black stamp of Mexico.

United States Will Guard Atomic Secrets Closely As Long As Russia Works on Development

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 26—Much has been noted recently about spy rings seeking information about the atomic bomb but little suspicion has been aroused apparently by the peculiar outcry which arises every now and then from various quarters inside and outside the United States demanding that the secret be given up.

The commonest argument is that the secret will be obtained by Russia anyway in five years. Russian dispatches try hard to give the impression that the Soviet already has the secret. Even in military weapons are kept very secret by the democracies and the Russians inevitably will have the secret and hence it should be shared with them now.

But the oddest part of the controversy is the glib way that various folk talk about the atomic bomb as if they really knew the secret themselves. How many of the persons who declare that Russia will have the secret in due time, know what the secret is or what basis there is for the assumption that other nations ever will obtain it through their own experiments?

Perhaps the most authoritative and significant information available on the subject is the statement of Major General Leslie B. Groves, director of the atomic project, who in the last few days in a press conference at Los Angeles declared the secret was safe from any spy ring. He said:

"The bomb project is a little like a giant jigsaw puzzle with 100,000 pieces. A chance betrayal by one of our scientists might reveal five or ten pieces out of the 100,000 but that would mean almost nothing."

Here is one of the few men in America who really knows all about the atomic bomb. It is not known how many do carry the entire secret. That in itself is a secret as well as the identity of the persons who have all the knowledge.

A distinction has to be drawn between atomic energy as such and the atomic bomb itself. Undoubtedly the secrets of atomic energy will be known to all scientists in a relatively short time, but this is a far different thing from knowing how to use it in an atomic bomb or how to drop or detonate it. The person who carries it or how to detonate it in such a way that it will be destructive, as was the case at Hiroshima.

U. S. Will Keep Secret
For decades atomic energy has been studied and for decades the idea of an atomic bomb has been discussed by military scientists, but not until last year, when the United States completed the most extensive experimental project the world has ever known, did scientists learn for the first time something about how the theory can turn out in actual practice. Further experiments are not only costly but could be very risky to the experimenters.

The Russians do not even allow newspapermen from other nations to come and go at will in their country, though Russian newspapermen without limit can come into America. The government here does not make public the number of outright refusals which have been received from Moscow for the admission of students, scholars, scientists and similar personnel when seeking entrance for cultural reasons only. Hence it seems improbable that Russia will ever be willing to satisfy the requirement that rigid inspection by outside governments be allowed at all times to see what is being done with the atomic bomb, how many are being manufactured and for what purposes.

The United States has offered to turn over the secret under specified conditions, but it is a foregone conclusion that these will not be met—at least not so long as Russia or any other country thinks it can develop the bomb of its own accord. Such government ceases to be a totalitarian government and becomes subject to the popular will to the extent that making is not left in the hands of a single man or clique, there is a little chance that any military secrets will ever be shared by this country with that type of government.

Propagandists no doubt will agitate for the release of the secret—and the demand will come largely from those Left-Wingers who are sympathetic with the totalitarian government at Moscow. It may mislead well-meaning persons to think appeasement of Russian totalitarianism is desirable, but it will not affect the Congress of the United States, which will never vote to surrender the atomic bomb secret so long as "security" is involved. Marine General Is Adviser to Red Cross

Washington, D. C.—Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine, U.S.M.C., head of the Retraining and Re-employment Administration, U. S. Department of Labor, has accepted appointment to a national committee to review and make recommendations on the organizational structure of the American Red Cross, it was announced by Basil O'Connor, national chairman.

OLD REPTILES TRACED

The first major clue to giant reptiles and other long extinct fauna of Rhodesia, Africa, was found by A. M. MacGregor, geologist, in the course of surveying coal deposits in the Selous game area. While crossing the beds of two ancient lakes he found two mammals of reptiles and fish which occupied the Buisi area millions of years ago. One was the Dinoceras ("Fearsome Head") which existed when animals gave up crawling and took to walking, and the mammal made its appearance. travelers in the 19th century.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

New Marigolds to Brighten Post-War Gardens

By DEAN HALUDAY

Released by Central Press Association

WHAT THE blinding flash of an atomic bomb is compared to the explosion of earlier bombs, is a color gauge of the brilliance of the new marigolds compared to gaudy earlier varieties.

Although marigolds have long led other flowers in providing a wealth of color all summer and fall, horticultural scientists have now made them strive to outdo even the spectrum.

Newest French single marigold, an All-America award winner, is Flash, shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. It begins to bloom in eight weeks from seed, and continues to bloom profusely until frost. Only 18 inches tall, Flash is covered with flowers nearly two inches across.

Also illustrated, is the 1944 All-America winner known as Mammoth Mum. It is the largest of the chrysanthemum type marigolds. Its brilliant light sulphur-yellow blooms are between 3 1/2 and 4 inches across.

In addition to the newcomers among marigolds, there are varieties available for nearly every garden purpose, whether bed, border, massing, or cutting.

Marigolds thrive in any ordinary garden soil in sunny locations. The French varieties, such as Flash, really do better in rather poor soil, as rich earth encourages rank growth of the finely cut foliage at the expense of the colorful blossoms.

In general marigolds are free from or withstand disease better than most other annuals.

Bacterial wilt, similar to that of tomatoes, sometimes attacks marigolds, but can be controlled by destroying the diseased plants. In moist weather gray mold may attack flowers, which should be removed and burned.

W.C.T.U. Hears Reports on Use Of Grain by Brewers

Mrs. George W. Shultz was hostess to the Kingston Woman's Christian Temperance Union Thursday afternoon, at her home, 279 Washington avenue. Mrs. O. B. Smith read a recent release, by Alonzo E. Wilson, of the American Business Men's Research Foundation, in which Mr. Wilson stated that during last year 64,250,000 bushels of barley, corn, rice and wheat were consumed by the brewers. "In December, 1945, they used 329,220,966 pounds of foodstuffs for their business. During the four and a half years of World War 2 more than 250,000,000 bushels of wholesome grain were wasted in making beer," Mrs. Smith stated. "The American people should realize what a terrific drain upon the backlog of food storage has been suffered during the past 50 months, with full sanction of government authorities. Some members of Congress say 'Some of the grain shortage is freight-car shortage.' But a Virginia W.C.T.U. member reports having seen freight cars marked 'Fruit, Produce, New Automobiles,' being loaded with whiskey, much advertised distillery near Baltimore."

Mrs. Minnie Dunneagan told of a compilation made public this month by Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union. In it she said, "The cost of gambling, drinking and crime in the United States now exceeds $34,600,000 annually—and all-time high."

At the next four meetings the new studies "Christ, the Apostles and Wine" will be used as program material. The next meeting of the local Union will be Wednesday, April 17. After refreshments were served by the hostess a social hour was enjoyed and the meeting adjourned.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Force of Habit

Seattle, March 26 (P)—Joe Shook, a bus driver, got a traffic ticket when he parked his car on a downtown street.

He left it in a bus loading zone.

Proposition

Idaho Falls, Idaho, March 26 (P)—Colin Mackenzie posted the following sign on the wall of his cafe:

"Will marry any farmer's daughter who owns her own cow and can churn butter. Signed, des- perate."

Aussie Model

Chicago, March 26 (P)—Mrs. June Liabo, an Australian war bride, has introduced a new technique in baby carrying in Chicago's loop. She appeared with her son, Paul Roland Liabo, nine months old, in an Australian "cuddle seat," a cloth sling that goes over the mother's shoulders. Mrs.

Liabo, wife of Palmer Liabo, former Marine captain, said the device is popular in Australia.

Gratitude

Manhattan Beach, Calif., March 26 (P)—Mrs. Ruby Bigelow has an admirer on her hands, and can't get rid of him.

She gave first aid to a sea lion that had its jaws gummed up with tar, then dumped it back in the ocean. The animal jumped right out again and followed her home. Every time she puts him back in the water the sea lion shows up a few minutes later at Mrs. Bigelow's home.

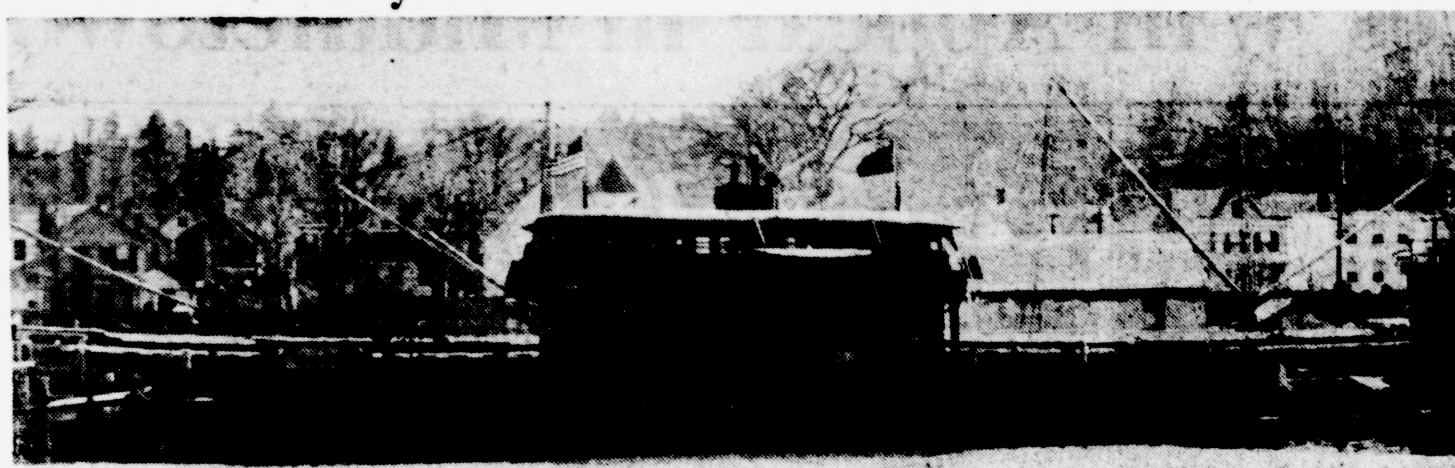

Costly Call

Chicago, March 26 (P)—Three men in a telephone booth is crowded—and expensive, Ira Wallace told police.

Wallace was making a telephone call to a partner in connection with the sale of property to two prospective buyers who crowded into the booth.

Suddenly one of the buyers became ill and his companion helped him out. Wallace completed the call, left the booth and found the "buyers" had gone. So was his wallet with $270, he told police.

Ferry Richmond at Hildebrandt Yard

The ferryboat Richmond, which has been purchased by the New York State Bridge Authority, and will be used on the Kingston-Rhinecliff run until the proposed new bridge is erected across the Hudson river, is now at the Hildebrandt shipyard at Connelly, where she will be conditioned.

The exact date when the ferry will be placed in operation will depend on when the vessel can be dry docked for painting and inspection. The Richmond made the trip to Kingston from Edgewater, N. J., on Saturday in approximately seven hours. (Freeman Photo).

Business Men Meet

An adjourned meeting of the Central Business Men's Association will be held Thursday, March 28, at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock. The election of directors will be the principal order of business.

went for salaries, wages and pensions to employees

went for taxes of all kinds... nearly half of it to local communities to support schools; maintain roads and other governmental activities

14¢

It is important to keep in mind that the capital invested in the business was approximately $4.00 for each revenue dollar received in 1945. Consequently the 15c portion of the revenue dollar used for Interest and Dividends plus the 1c portion used as a nest egg, or a total of 16c, represents only 4c for each dollar of invested capital. In other words, the 16c represents an average return of approximately 4% on the funds which the Company's bondholders and stockholders now have invested in the business.

UNRRA Seeks Curb on Armies Living Off Occupied Land

Atlantic City, N. J., March 26 (AP)—A sharp curb on the practice of liberating armies "living off the land" was demanded today in a United States move aimed primarily at the Red Army, but applied broadly enough to cover the activities of all armed forces. The United States proposed to the 48 members of UNRRA's council that they adopt the principle that their military forces refrain from requisitioning food, clothing, or other necessities from the civilian population of occupied areas. The UNRRA's relief program, which is maintaining the peace in this country simultaneously, is a barrier against use of supplies by liberating forces in proposing a ban against "impeding in any way the equitable distribution of imported and indigenous relief supplies."

To give force to the plan, the United States—fiscal source of approximately 75 per cent of UNRRA's supplies—proposed that violation of its plan to assure minimum living standards be met with a downward readjustment in the aid to the countries whose armies are responsible.

Army Sets Policy
C. Tyler Wood, an Army colonel now with the State Department, outlined this government's policy. Wood said yesterday the United States has "full confirmation that in Austria the Soviet occupying force have acquired and are acquiring large acreage of land upon which a substantial part of the food supply of the population depends."

He added that he had been informed that Russia was opposing an UNRRA proposal that "oil and gasoline necessary for the relief program (in Austria) shall be provided from the indigenous production which is now under Soviet military control."

"In both cases," he said, "UNRRA assets, which we all know are pitifully inadequate to meet the crying need, would be further depleted, if they were used to import the food and fuel which the Austrian economy could, if it were permitted, produce for the benefit of the Austrian people."

He declared, however, that his

New Sugar Stamp Racket Disclosed By District O.P.A.

Lester W. Herzog, district director, O.P.A., stated today that a new racket in sugar stamps had been uncovered. Individuals were cutting the 3 off the 39 Spac stamps and using the cut stamp for a No. 9 sugar stamp.

He advised all sellers that they must tear these stamps out of the ration books themselves in order to avoid getting charged with accepting these invalid stamps. The grocer could tell these cut stamps because they were not as long as the regular stamp and had a small black edge instead of a large one.

He stated, however, that the amount of business done by the average seller makes it difficult to examine each stamp, and they could protect themselves by refusing to accept a No. 9 stamp unless it was in the book. This would create no hardship on anyone as certainly no one could claim he or she had previously torn the stamp out of the book as it was not validated until a short time ago.

Herzog states these cut stamps would be disclosed in the Verification Center and immediately charged back to the seller and would not be replaced. He also stated that purchasers were not benefiting themselves inasmuch as it was generally understood that Spare stamp No. 39 would be validated later on and the use of it now by mutilation would mean there would be no stamp to use when such validation occurs.

59-Year-Old Eyes for 14-Month-Old Baby

New York, March 26 (AP)—A 14-month-old baby, blind from birth, now is seeing through 59-year-old eyes which were bequeathed to science by Miss Tobey when she died last September, a hospital spokesman said today.

Miss Tobey's eyes were removed and shipped to the Eye Institute of the Presbyterian Hospital where an operation was performed to transfer the corneas to the eyes of the baby, then eight months old. The spokesman said:

"The operation is considered successful; the baby can see, although he must return for observation for several more months before final judgment is made."

The name of the baby was not disclosed.

Miss Tobey's action was prompted by the suffering of a nephew who was the victim of an eye affliction for years.

In her will, the Stamford, Conn., woman said:

"When life leaves my body, I want to provide a happier life for someone living by donating my eyes to science."

7,000 British G.I. Brides Seem to Dislike Travel

London, March 26 (AP)—The U. S. Army Transport Command said today 4,000 G.I. brides who applied for transportation to join their husbands in the United States had changed their minds as sailing time neared.

Most of them failed to complete the final questionnaires required for passage. It was estimated that 1,000 British girls who married American servicemen had not registered for transportation.

Altogether 43,000 applications have been received from brides and children and about 18,000 have sailed, the Transport Command said, adding that it hoped to have the others in the United States by July.

"As soon as the peak of the movement has been reached," an army spokesman said, "we will try to find the lost girls."

Army Smoke Generators To Fight Frost, Insects

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Smoke apparatus developed by the Army to hide troop movements will be tested for its possibilities in protecting crops against frost and insects.

The War Department said today 16 mechanical smoke generators are being borrowed by the Agriculture Department for test at 14 stations throughout the country—in fruit, cotton, tobacco and wheat producing areas.

The idea is to determine whether a smoke blanket over a wide area can prevent the night-time dissipation of heat imparted to the ground by the sun's rays and thus ward off frost.

SUCH A PRESENT SURELY WILL BE VALUED

The following letter is perhaps more typical of yesterday than today, but even so it is not unusual: "I am the waitress for a prominent family and am acting as a spokesman for one of us who have lived with this family since the daughter was a little girl. She is being married soon. There will be a large church wedding and a reception here at the house. We would like to give the bride one wedding present from the three of us and another, our cook who has been here only a year.

Should we write a message on the card to be enclosed with the present? What should it say? Would it be best to give the present to the bride personally or have it sent to her from the store? Can you suggest what would be nicest for us to give her?

The gift should be something permanent, of silver perhaps for her table—sugar tongs, salt spoons, tea strainer, an ash tray or a serving spoon—or perhaps something for her dressing or bed table, such as a little box for whatever you know she uses.

Choose an appropriate greeting card to enclose with it and sign your names in the order of length of employment. The one who has been there longest should be at the head of the list. Whether you send it from the store or give it to her personally depends upon what you prefer to do.

Three-Generation Tea
Dear Mrs. Post: My mother, my married daughter and I are giving a large tea for my engaged daughter. Should all four of us "receive" and in what order should we stand? This tea is not being given at home.

Answer: Four receiving in line.

Otherwise, I personally would prefer that your mother and the engaged daughter receive and that you and your married daughter mingle with the guests. There is, however, no set rule about this. C.A.A. Will Hold Meeting Tonight At K. of C. Hall

Secretary Schupp Invites Representatives of All Catholic Organizations to Meet at 7 P. M.

An important meeting for the reorganization of the Catholic Athletic Association will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus building, Leo A. Schupp, secretary announced Monday. During the session plans will be laid for the coming football season. Sidney Lutzin, recreation director, has assured the organization the use of the city's park facilities as soon as they are made ready.

Secretary Schupp has issued a cordial invitation to all Catholic men's organizations in and around Kingston to have a representative at tonight's parley. Andy Gilday, past president, is acting in that capacity until the reorganization is completed and a new election of officers is held.

Meetings will be held in the near future to draw up by-laws, elect officers and to plan programs for the summer season, it was disclosed.

West Defeats East In Golden Gloves Tourney at Garden

Fight Experts Are Still Buzzing Over Stellar Show by Young Negro Ace in Knockout

New York, March 26 (AP)—Bob Foxworth, a 20-year-old negro amateur light heavyweight with professional polish and a powerful punch, had the fight experts buzzing today over his impressive showing in the 19th Annual Inter-City Golden Gloves contests.

The Golden Gloves classic has produced its share of world's boxing kings including such as Joe Louis and Barney Ross, and the ring-side observers among the 19-216 customers who packed Madison Square Garden last night to see the Westerners beat the Eastern team 10-6 are agreed that Foxworth is the boy most likely to succeed among the 1946 contestants.

Showing plenty of class as he stalked Robert Isler of New York around the ring for the first two rounds of their championship clash, the 175-pound east St. Louis, Ill., typist caught up with his eastern rival in the third frame and flattened him with a dynamic right to the chin at 1:10.

The west also came up with the only other knockout victor in the 1946 tourney and produced the upset of the night.

Would Bar Automatic Weapons for Hunting

Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—

Use of automatic firearms for hunting is prohibited in a bill approved by the Legislature and sent to Governor Dewey.

Assemblyman Leo A. Lawrence, Herkimer Republican, said he introduced the bill to prevent the use of machinegun-type weapons, some of which, he added, "might have been brought back to this country by veterans as trophies."

In the bill an automatic firearm is defined as "one which will continue to fire as long as the trigger is held back." Use of auto-loading guns which contain not more than six shells and require the triggers to be pulled for each shot would be allowed.

Cheer Maroon Athletes to Victory

Kingston High School can usually pose as a threat to any other school in athletic competition. The same is true for Maroon and White cheerleaders as is attested by these five imposing cheerleaders who have been instrumental in keeping Maroon athletes on their toes all season long. Taking some time out from their daily chores last week, the five young ladies—Marilyn Caunitz, Jackie Christiana, Lorraine Roe, captain; Blanche Glass, and Jean Bilyou—posed for The Freeman photographer and this was the happy result.

Last Friday the K.H.S. cheerleaders were hosts to the annual Hudson Valley cheerleaders association. Dick Siebert Quits St. Louis Browns

Refusing to sign at terms offered by the St. Louis Browns, first baseman Dick Siebert, who has been a holdout since the Athletics traded him to the Browns, quit baseball today and said he would broadcast American Association games for a St. Paul, Minn., radio station.

Siebert, who asked the Browns to match the $12,000 salary he received last year with the A.A., said that "there is no question about my decision—I'm through."

Siebert was traded to St. Louis for George McQuinn, another first sacker with no cash involved. However, it was stipulated that the deal be contingent on both players reporting. Under the arrangement it was believed that the Browns would ask the Athletics to return McQuinn or offer an alternate player for Siebert.

Legislative Roundup

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—New York's nerve-frayed Legislature paused in its home stretch gallop toward final adjournment today to stage explosive debates on the state residential rent control bill and the New York city tax program.

Legislative leaders predicted it would be many hours beyond the scheduled 3 p. m. quitting time before the lawmakers finished their work.

Although both the rent control bill and Mayor William O'Dwyer's tax program were likely to be approved, thorough airing of the measures was indicated.

Bills continued the New York city commercial rent control laws for another year were passed by the Assembly last night.

Democrats Hit Bill

The Democrats, one of whom said the residential rent freeze bill "stinks," lined up speakers to assail provisions excluding new construction and summer places from control.

The minority also marshaled its best orators to assail Governor Dewey and the Republican legislative leaders for what it has termed the "short-changing" of the cities in state aid under the Moore Commission program.

This line of attack was to be followed in debate on the New York city tax bills, under which the city would be allowed to raise $79,000,000 in new taxes each year for the next three years.

The Democrats contend that if the Dewey administration had given New York city "a fair share" of state revenues the tax program would have been unnecessary.

Assembly Democratic Leader Irwin Steingut said the issue would be threshed out again in the gubernatorial election campaign next fall.

Create Airport Authority

Mayor William O'Dwyer got over one huge hurdle last night when the Senate passed, 39 to 14, a bill creating a New York city airport authority.

The measure was up for expected passage in the Assembly today. Meanwhile, one of the most torrid debates of the session took place in the Assembly on a proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit the nomination of a candidate by a party in which he is not enrolled.

Sponsored by Republican Assemblyman Orin M. Eeres of Endicott and aimed at the American Labor Party and other minor parties, the proposal was defeated by a vote of 76 to 64.

With the Democrats solidly opposed, the Assembly voted, 90 to 54, for a proposed constitutional amendment to lengthen the term of state senators from two to four years.

The pastor of a small church recently became doubtful about his sermons. The more time he spent in preparing them, the less the people seemed interested.

"The minister did a little investigating. He found that only one member of his congregation had been graduated from college, and less than 18 per cent from high school. Fewer than 30 per cent ever read any religious literature other than Sunday school lessons. Many never read newspapers.

So the preacher asked himself these questions: "Have I been talking to these people about their problems or about my problems? Have I taken the trouble to put in plain words what they are perfectly plain to them? Would it make any difference to them if they missed what I propose to say to them next Sunday?"

Now the people of that congregation are saying, "Our preacher is certainly improving in his preaching, isn't he?"

but said he would not go so far as to say that "there is a need" to take the Iranian situation before the Council. He said his aides were seated at the rose-tinted council chamber at Hunter College, in the city. The raven-haired Gromyko, speaking in Russian, was behind a table lined up with the 10 members.

After Council President Chiang Kai-shek had swept aside the agenda of the council session, second in importance, and plunged the peace agency into discussion of the tangled Iranian issue, American and British representatives had made it plain to the meeting that they insist on a full and complete report from the Soviet Union on what they have learned about getting Red Army out of the middle east. Gromyko had let it be known that, barring new instructions from Moscow, he would seek any immediate consideration.

Great Powers Split Again
The great powers went into a meeting split along the usual lines. The Russian troops had not yet at the time already withdrawing from Iran.

The Soviet council got around to discussing Iranian charges as the council considered an urgent American Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore's letter from Moscow. Minister Stalin last Friday, in a statement, said that the United Nations and its Security Council.

Only new instructions from Moscow to Ambassador Andre Gromyko could avert a sharp decline in these authorities said, and Minister Stalin's statement on the situation last night was interpreted as leaving little prospect of a settlement.

Stalin said the question of withdrawing Russian troops from Iran is a central issue raised in the Iranian complaint filed with the Council last week—is now a closed matter because they are being withdrawn under a Soviet-Iranian agreement.

Secretary of State Byrnes is understood to feel there is no need to raise now the fact that they should have been out by March 2, although some British officials are still hammering on this point. But Byrnes is ready to insist that the Soviet-Iranian agreement should be brought before the Council at once for study and possible approval or disapproval.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British representative on the Council, fully shares this view, informants said. Gromyko, on the other hand, was reported still standing on the proposal he made last week that the whole question should be put off until April 10, and barring new instructions he had no alternative but to make that argument before the Council.

Today's session was scheduled for 11 a. m. (E.S.T.) and promised to produce the fireworks which had to show up at the opening meeting yesterday after Gromyko finally agreed not to press for postponement until today.

New York, March 26 (AP)—Assorted rails and industrials continued to make headway over the recovery road in today's stock market although many leaders seemed fatigued by the recent climb.

The fact that the 60-stock average had regained about 70 per cent of the February slump tended to exert a cautionary influence and cause a certain amount of profit cashing. The somewhat brighter foreign picture and persistent Wall street hopes of a bulge in price ceilings again inspired much of the bidding.

Dealings, fast at the opening, slowed later. Extreme gains running to better than a point were trimmed here and there near the fourth hour and a smattering of losers was in evidence. Some liquors steadied.

Ahead most of the day were Youngstown Sheet, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, North American, Anaconda, Distillers Corp., American Distilling, Radio Corp., Standard Oil of Cal., Texas Co., Southern Railway and Chesapeake & Ohio. Gimbels common slipped as talk of a lifted dividend failed to materialize today. Douglas Aircraft retreated. Backward were U. S. Steel, Southern Pacific, Westinghouse, International Nickel, U. S. Gypsum and National Distillers.

Bonds were selectively higher. Commodities turned irregular.

Along this same line, the industry suggested a joint operator-unit committee in each coal producing state to study mining laws and propose such safety amendments as they deem necessary.

The final proposal suggested that the union pay $1 a man per day to the operators for each day of a strike in violation of contract. In return, the operators would agree to pay damages at the rate of $1 a man per day to the union affected for each day of a lock-out.

Cheaper for Subsidies Than Price Ceilings

Washington, March 26 (AP)—Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt contended today it would be cheaper and better to provide government subsidies on building materials than to increase price ceilings. A boost in prices, he told the Senate Banking Committee, would cost the public five times as much as subsidies and probably would discourage home building. After World War One, he said, spiraling prices led to a suspension of house construction until costs were lowered.

Wyatt pleaded for $60,000,000 in subsidies and for price ceilings on existing houses as part of the administration's program to erect 2,700,000 homes for veterans. Most of these were knocked out of the plan by the House.

The housing chief termed the subsidies "to be used to spur production of scarce materials" in achieving the goals of the housing program. Under the proposed plan to put price ceilings on existing homes, present owners would be allowed to sell at whatever price they could get but that they would serve as the top figure in resale.

Wartime Rationing Not Recommended By UNRRA Council

By ALEX SINGLETON

Atlantic City, N. J., March 26 (AP)—Sources close to the British and American delegations at an UNRRA council meeting reported today that the international relief organization would not recommend universal return to wartime rationing of food.

The decision was reached, these sources said, within the Council's committee on supplies which has been meeting almost continuously behind closed doors since this 48-nation conference got together.

Director General Herbert Lehman had told the UNRRA that a return to the wartime controls would save the lives of countless thousands.

As an alternative to his plea, the committee was understood to be planning a recommendation under which supplying countries—those with food available for relief elsewhere—would take over the responsibility of meeting UNRRA requirements.

This, in the case of the United States for example, might mean indirect rationing—that this country, in collecting its share of UNRRA's requirements, would obtain the food from producers before it reached the public.

Meanwhile, it was learned that Roy Hendrickson, deputy director general for the organization, had left for Washington with a copy of the report.

Delegates speculated on the possibility that the UNRRA would attack upon the treaty and the prosecution's charge that the Nazis conspired to break the treaty with the aim of waging aggressive war.

Although there was no official confirmation, it was reported reliably that the supply committee's endorsement of his position was backed by the Latin-American delegations.

These countries, plus the United States and Canada, comprise the major sources from which UNRRA hopes to meet its food requirements.

Investigating a report from Port Ewen Monday evening that a light had been noticed in a bungalow owned by New York city people, Deputy Sheriff Leonard Ellisworth found the light burning as reported, but the bungalow was locked up, with a padlock on the door. Evidently the family had gone back to the city unaware of the fact that they had left a light burning. The property is owned by a Mr. Felsing.

Von Ribbentrop Pleads Innocent to Charges

Nuernberg, March 26 (AP)—Joachim Von Ribbentrop told the International Military Tribunal today he accepted full responsibility for his acts as Foreign Minister of Germany, but was pleading innocent on all counts of the war crimes indictment.

The gaunt, silver-haired Nazi followed the example of Hermann Goering and Rudolph Hess in opening his personal defense.

The court ruled out defense evidence intended to prove that the Versailles Treaty was unjust and was signed by Germany "under duress." Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, British prosecutor, said the defense claim was "completely remote, irrelevant and beyond the terms of the Tribunal's charter."

The defense attorneys then launched an attack upon the treaty and the prosecution's charge that the Nazis conspired to break the treaty with the aim of waging aggressive war.

Half of N. Y. Tax Program Through The State Assembly

By HENRY LEADER
Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—Half of New York city's $700,000,000 tax program sailed through the Assembly without debate today as New York lawmakers drove toward final adjournment of the 1946 session tonight.

By a vote of 110 to 1 the Assembly approved the Davidson Bill permitting New York city to impose a 5 per cent tax on part of the 1946 session tonight.

The Assembly passed, 107 to 3, the Steingut Bill authorizing New York city to levy a 5 per cent tax on hotel room rentals to raise an estimated $7,000,000. Voting in the negative were Republican Assemblymen Mac Neil Mendenhall and Frank J. McNeill. New York city Republicans and Assemblyman Joseph R. Younglove, Fulton county Republican.

Measures doubling the city's one per cent sales tax and its gross business taxes were laid aside temporarily.

Upon disposal of the New York city tax program the Assembly was to take up the state residential rent control bill.

The Assembly approved unanimously Governor Dewey's proposed $1,750,000 temporary increase in state aid to central schools. The measure went to the Senate.

Central schools now receive about $21,000,000 a year from the state. The increase would partially remedy inequities pending a complete survey and revision of the state aid program.

The Democrats marshaled their oratorical forces to assail Governor Dewey and the Republican legislative leaders, in debate on the two remaining tax bills, for which it has termed the "short-changing" of the cities in state aid under the Moore Commission program.

Fund Is Approved To Help Catch Up With Tax Evaders

House Favors Spending $16,135,000 on Plan; Senate Has Not Acted Yet

Washington, March 26 (AP)—A new $16,135,000 fund to help the Internal Revenue Bureau run down approximately 40,000 tax evaders won the approval of the House Appropriations Committee today. The money was included in a $233,179,153 overall deficiency appropriation bill for miscellaneous agencies which the committee sent to the House floor for debate later this week.

The committee acted after hearing bureau heads explain results already achieved in crackdown operations against income tax evaders. During the first six months of the current fiscal year, Assistant Revenue Commissioner William T. Sherwood told the committee, additional tax assessments which are "practically 100 per cent collectible" were $172,587,000 in excess of assessments for the corresponding period of the preceding year.

Have 40,000 Leads
Approximately 40,000 leads on attempted evasions have been given the bureau, Sherwood said, and many more tips are expected. The leads have been furnished, he said, by "public-spirited citizens," "jealous neighbors" and in some cases have grown out of family disagreements.

In requesting the additional fund, Sherwood said he was confident the new personnel it would provide would enable the bureau to recover "hundreds of millions of dollars of unreported taxes."

Would Increase Personnel
The committee said the additional money would permit an increase in revenue bureau personnel from 56,310 to approximately 63,726 and gives the bureau current year funds of $176,650,000. The House recently voted $181,700,000 for the bureau's work for the fiscal year starting next July 1, but the Senate has not yet acted. There are about 100 separate fund allotments in the bill, including $6,480,000 for the State Department for the cost of United States participation in the United Nations Organization.

In addition the committee recommended funds for the employment of approximately 166 persons on the permanent United States staff of U.N.O.

Propose Strike Help

Atlantic City, N. J., March 26 (AP)—The C.I.O. United Auto Workers convention, temporarily desisting from its hot political battle, deliberated today a proposal to assess the union's membership in support of remaining General Motors strikers. The convention served notice on General Motors of "united and determined" support of the comparatively few strikers whose piece work dispute is holding up a full return to work of 175,000 men and ordered a committee to examine the assessment proposal.

Nazi Gang Emasculates G. I.

Frankfurt, March 26 (AP)—Military police said today a gang of German youths had emasculated a 26-year-old American Army corporal and killed another U.S. soldier near the border of Russian-occupied Germany.

The corporal, whose name was withheld, is recovering in an Army hospital from loss of blood. American investigators said no arrest has been made in either case.

Military police said the corporal was waylaid in a dark, rubble-strewn alley in Kassel at 4 a. m., March 20. He said he had been drinking and was set upon by five or six German youths.

Investigators said there was no evidence to support a theory that the attack was motivated by revenge, but the soldier was known to have been fraternizing with a German girl.

Details of the murder of the soldier at Eschwege in the northern part of the American zone were withheld, but it was reported that an unknown person hit the American on the head with a blunt instrument. The assailant was said to have been wounded in the struggle. He reportedly fled toward the Russian boundary line leaving a trail of bloodstains.

A.P. Writer Confirms Russian Withdrawal

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN

Karaj, Iran, March 25 (Delayed) (AP)—The Russians are pulling out of this ancient caravan-stop—northern gateway to the Iranian capital of Tehran—with as little fanfare as when they entered it almost five years ago.

Last night, even before the Soviet government announced that the evacuation of Red Army troops had begun, the garrison began loading trucks and moving tanks. By midnight, 14 tanks—American built—Shermans and Russian mediums—were thundering through the village streets toward Kazvin and the north.

Karaj is 20 miles northwest of Tehran.

W.C.T.U. Hears Reports on Use Of Grain by Brewers

Mrs. George W. Smith was hostess to the Kingston Women's Christian Temperance Union Thursday afternoon at her home, 279 Washington avenue.

Mrs. O. D. Smith read a recent release by the American Business Men's Research Foundation, in which Mr. Wilson stated that during last year 64,250,000 bushels of barley, corn, rice and wheat were consumed by the brewers. This is a significant amount of grain and raises questions about its use.

The release also states that the brewers are using a large amount of grain for the production of alcohol. This is a concern for many people who believe that grain should be used for food and other essential purposes.

The W.C.T.U. is concerned about the use of grain by brewers and is working to educate the public about the issue. They are also working to support farmers and other producers of grain.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Force of Habit
Seattle, March 26 (P)—Joe Shook, a bus driver, got a traffic ticket when he parked his car on a downtown street. He left it in a bus loading zone.

Proposition
Idaho Falls, Idaho, March 26 (P)—Colin Mackenzie posted the following sign on the wall of his cafe:

"Will marry any farmer's daughter who owns her own cow and can churn butter. Signed, desperate."

Aussie Model
Chicago, March 26 (P)—Mrs. Liabo, an Australian war bride, has introduced a new technique in baby carrying in Chicago's loop. She appeared with her son, Paul Roland Liabo, nine months old, in an Australian "cuddie seat," a cloth sling that goes over the mother's shoulders. Mrs.

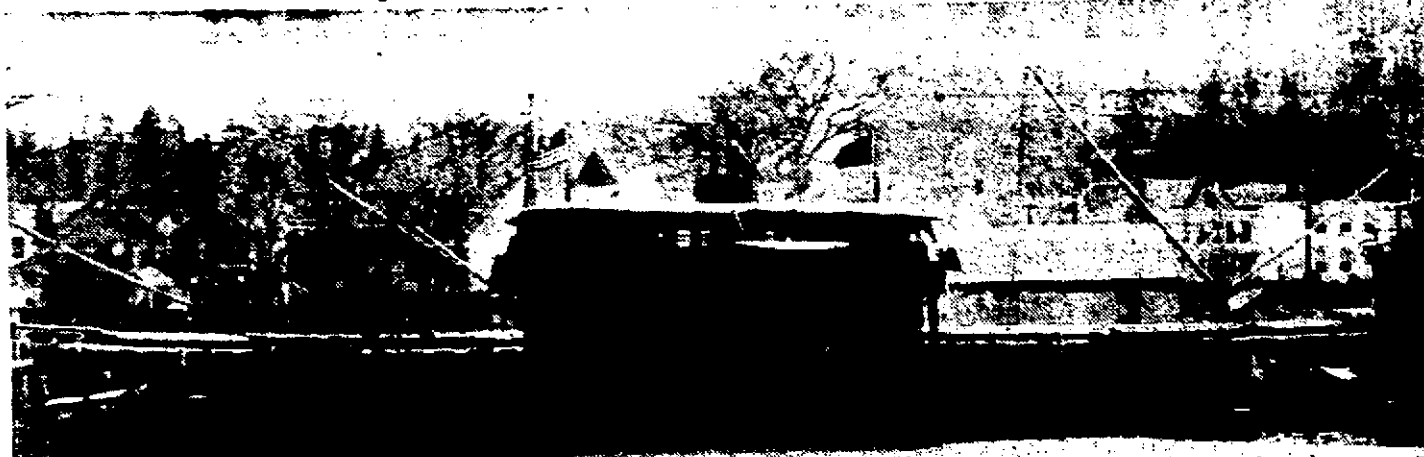

Liabo, wife of Palmer Liabo, former Marine captain, said the device is popular in Australia.

Gratitude
Manhattan Beach, Calif., March 26 (P)—Mrs. Ruby Bigelow has an admirer on her hands, and can't get rid of him. She gave first aid to a sea lion that had its jaws gummed up with tar, then dumped it back in the ocean. The animal jumped right out again and followed her home. Every time she puts him back in the water the sea lion shows up a few minutes later at Mrs. Bigelow's home.

Costly Call
Chicago, March 26 (P)—Three men in a telephone booth is crowded—and expensive. Ira Wallace told police.

Wallace was making a telephone call to a partner in connection with the sale of property to two prospective buyers who crowded into the booth. Suddenly one of the buyers became ill and his companion helped him out. Wallace completed the call, left the booth and found the "buyers" had gone. So was his wallet with $270, he told police.

It is important to keep in mind that the capital invested in the business was approximately $4.00 for each revenue dollar received in 1945. Consequently the 15c portion of the revenue dollar used for Interest and Dividends plus the 1c portion used as a nest egg, or a total of 16c, represents only 4c for each dollar of invested capital. N.Y.U. Court Aces Will Appear in Middletown, Friday, April 5

Other Met Stars Are Slated: Pro Team Will Play

Tannenbaum, Magiapane, N.Y.U., Boykoff of St. John's Listed for Big Basketball Night

Two of this year's "greats" with Coach Howard McCann, N.Y.U. basketball team, will play with the Metropolitan All Stars at the Middletown High School gym Friday night, April 5, as part of a special basketball tournament.

The Metropolitan All Stars, in addition to the two N.Y.U. stars, will have Harry Boykoff, St. John's star, and former West Point, Paul Schenck, captain of the C.C.N.Y. team this season, and Jack Goldsmith, the Long Island University sensation who has shattered just about every scoring mark in Metropolitan intercollegiate circles.

Franklin in Lineup
This star-studded aggregation will meet the American Professional League All Stars in the grand finale of the triple-header. The Pros will have Art Hillhouse, Benjie O'Neil, Ossie Schectman, Herb Gerson, Leo Gottlieb and Max Frankel.

The April 5 extravaganza has been planned by Vince Dime, of Middletown who has tabbed the triple-header as a "sure thing" for Middletown and area basketball fans. Proceeds over and above expenses will go to the Middletown Swimming Pool Fund.

The two N.Y.U. stalwarts—Tannenbaum and Magiapane—were standouts all year long with the college quintet which dropped only two regular season decisions. They will appear in Madison Square Garden this Saturday night in the East-West basketball game.

All-City Choice

Tannenbaum, a unanimous All-City choice in Gotham, was the high scorer for the Violets during the 1945-46 campaign. Magiapane, who stands only five feet, is captain of that club. He is regarded as one of the greatest rebound artists who has ever played on the Garden floor. Schenck, the C.C.N.Y. ace, was another All-City choice this year. He captained City College and was the high spark in the C.C.N.Y. upset over N.Y.U. just a short time ago.

Pros No Strangers

The Pro League stars, who are no strangers to Kingston cage fans, will have a stellar hall themselves. Hillhouse, a former L.I.U. great, is now with the Philadelphia Sphas. O'Neil and Schectman also are playing with the Philly Sphas at the present. Gerson, who has played a number of games before local fans at the municipal auditorium, is now with the Trenton Tigers, while Gottlieb is a member of the Gotham and Frankel, another Kingston favorite, is signed by the Paterson Crescents.

The two other clashes preceding the Metropolitan All Star-Pros League meeting will find the Furries meeting the New York Celtics at 7:30 o'clock. At 8:30 o'clock it will be the Middletown Swanks and Furries playing for the Middletown city championship.

Hoppe Holds Slim Lead Over Schaefer

Boston, March 26 (AP)—Willie Hoppe, the former "boy wonder" from West Plains, N. Y., held a 14-point lead over Jake Schaefer, Jr., of Chicago, today as their 300-point three-cushion match entered its second day at the City Club.

Hoppe, who has held just about every billiard title at some time during his 30 years in the game, won both the afternoon and evening blocks yesterday, led by the first block, 65-37 in 33 innings while having a run of eight, and came back to take the second block, 50-49 in 48 innings in a very close game.

The two foremost billiard players in the world will conclude the match with the afternoon and evening blocks tomorrow. They then will play a match at Buffalo, N. Y., Cleveland and Detroit.

Head Field Again

Buffalo, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—Burrage and the same three players who started the way home in the first round of the 1946-47 Billiard Event Saturday, are expected to head the field for the second section this Saturday. Warren Wright's Armed Forces team will carry the top burden of 120 points but will be heavily outnumbered by the other three players. Herbert M. Woods, who has defeated all others that may be mentioned against him in the past, is expected to make a strong showing.

Traps Animal Near High Falls

Roscoe North, of 152½ St. James street, better known in sports circles of this area as "Rud," became the first Ulster county trapper to bag the first beaver in 46 years last Saturday when he caught the 21-pound animal in a clove near Trap Mountain, High Falls.

"Rud," who now goes in for hunting instead of the diamond pastime, is well-known in these parts for his baseball hurling with the old Stone Ridge baseball club. "Rud" shelved his glove some six years back, however.

Not this catch came on Saturday, the first day of the 1946 beaver season which runs until March 31. The open season on beaver is the first in this county for 46 years. During the past five years beaver are said to have been increasing very rapidly and this year an open season has been sanctioned.

Up College Career

in Garden Tilt

New York, March 26 (AP)—Seven-foot Bob Kurland, who developed from an awkward player four years ago into one of the game's most polished performers, winds up his college basketball career tonight as the Oklahoma Aggies battle North Carolina for the N.C.A.A. Championship.

After Second Crown

The Cowboys, winner of 30 of 32 games and with most of last year's championship quintet back, seem confident about their chances of becoming the first team to win the national crown two straight years. Their current winning streak has reached 14.

North Carolina, winner of 29 of 31 games, defeated New York University and Ohio State to win the Western N.C.A.A. crown while the Tarheels, who took Western honors in the N.C.A.A. City, The Tarheels, who were the logical favorites, lost their only game, a 67-65 defeat to the "Cowboys" in six games. The Tarheels' task of trying to stop the Cowboys is a heavy one. Bowling

Mixed League Meeting

There will be an important meeting of the Central Mixed Bowling League Thursday evening, March 28, at 7:30 o'clock. Betty Boyce, secretary, requests all captains and team members to be present as matters of vital importance will be discussed.

INDEPENDENT LEAGUE

The Stone Ridge Firemen won two games from Beichert's Studbaker's at the Central Res. Alleys, Monday night and strengthened their hold on first place in the Independent Bowling League. The wins enabled them to widen the gap over the runners-up, Vogel's Dairymen, who dropped three games to Jump's Market. John Davis shot a 568 triple and 221 single to take all honors.

Jump's Market really sprung a surprise on Vogel's Dairymen in sweeping the match. Barry Rosinski's 528 triple and Chuck Davis' 201 single were tops.

Bill Davis of Martin's Market topped all bowlers for the evening, throwing deuces for a 636 triple, but Cole's Market eked out two victories. Davis' high single was 223.

Wilber's Coal jumped into a tie for third place with Martin's by downing Callanan's three times. Ray DuBois was high with a triple of 562 and a 209 single.

Boxing Card Complete For Thursday, April 4

Bill Singer Promises Plenty of Slugging With Champs Set in Most Bouts

The boxing card to be presented Thursday night, April 4, at the Municipal Auditorium, is complete.

At a special meeting Monday of the committee sponsoring the ring sport for B'nai B'rith, Bill Singer, director of bouts, reported that he had completed the fistful bill of fare.

All Hard Punchers

"I've added four red hot preliminaries to the three five-round features," Singer said. "I signed all of the hardest punchers in the Adirondack district of the A.A.U., and on paper the card looks like there should be plenty of slugging."

Saturday's announcement of the top scraps revealed that Singer had rounded up a Golden Gloves champion to compete in each.

"I figured we couldn't miss in presenting champions," he commented. "All of these boys have fought their way to the top the hard way. I matched them with pugilists who have good records, intending to give local fight fans more than their money's worth."

At last night's meeting, there was plenty of optimism regarding the success of the bouts. All of the committeemen reported enthusiasm on the part of boxing fans, and each said that he had been queried about tickets.

Start 9 p. m.

Prices of tickets and phone numbers where they may be reserved will be announced shortly.

Starting time of the scraps will be 9 o'clock, and the box office will be open early enough to take care of patrons who desire general admission seats.

The complete cards follows:

The last five round match will feature Frank Marcellino, tipping the scales at 126 and Freddie O'Neal, 125 from Schenectady. O'Neal is the A.A.U. Golden Gloves featherweight champion who has piled up 27 straight wins.

Preliminary Bouts

Three four-round prelims have been engaged for the opening night of boxing. Bob Burns, 138, Schenectady welterweight novice champ, will take Johnny Rollin, 134, Albany lightweight novice champ. Both are Golden Gloves A.A.U. winners. Another prelim will pit two hard-hitting youngsters in a bout which promises plenty of thrills for fight fans. West Defeats East In Golden Gloves Tourney at Garden

Fight Experts Are Still Buzzing Over Stellar Show by Young Negro Ace in Knockout

New York, March 26 (AP)—Bob Foxworth, a 20-year-old negro amateur light heavyweight with professional polish and a powerful punch, had the fight experts buzzing today over his impressive showing in the 19th Annual Inter-City Golden Gloves contests.

The Golden Gloves classic has produced its share of world's boxing kings including such as Joe Louis and Barney Ross, and the ringside observers among the 19,216 customers who packed Madison Square Garden last night to see the Westerners beat the Eastern team 10-6 are agreed that Foxworth is the boy most likely to succeed among the 1946 contestants.

Showing plenty of class as he stalked Robert Isler of New York around the ring for the first two rounds of high championship rounds of the championship bout, Louis, Ill., typist caught up with his eastern rival in the third frame and flattened him with a dynamic right to the chin at 1:10.

The west also came up with the only other knockout victor in the 16 bouts and produced the upset of the night.

Would Bar Automatic Weapons for Hunting

Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—Use of automatic firearms for hunting is prohibited in a bill sponsored by the Legislature and sent to Governor Dewey.

Assemblyman Leo A. Lawrence, Republican, said he introduced the bill to prevent the use of machine-gun-type weapons, some of which, he added, "might have been brought back to this country by veterans as trophies."

In the bill an automatic firearm is defined as "one which will continue to fire as long as the trigger is held back." Use of automatic guns which contain not more than six shells and require the triggers to be pulled for each shot would be allowed.

Charlie Neff High Scorer With 24 Points: Kohler Nets 22 for Hilly City Jewels

In one of the wildest scoring orgies seen on a basketball court Saturday night, the Shapiro Jewels of Newburgh, inflicted another loss on the Kerhonkson Farmers at Napanoch by the score of 81 to 71. It was a thriller all the way with Newburgh tossing in 34 field goals and the losing Farmers coming up with 32. Thirteen foul conversions by the Jewels did the trick.

Newburgh sauntered off to a 35 to 26 margin during the first two periods of play and bounced back in the final cluster to protect the lead under the great shooting of Bob Kohler, Sammy Inzerla, Embler and Leibowitz and Merritt.

Charles Neff, late of the army, was high scorer again for the losing Farmers who have been experiencing widespread difficulty in keeping in the win column ever since that New Paltz setback. Neff branched out with 24 points Saturday but his individual high wasn't enough. Cliff Schoonmaker came in with 19 and W. Quick registered 16.

Dick Siebert Quits St. Louis Browns

Refusing to sign at terms offered by the St. Louis Browns, first baseman Dick Siebert, who has been a holdout since the Athletics traded him to the Browns, quit baseball today and said he would broadcast American Association games for a St. Paul, Minn., radio station.

Siebert, who asked the Browns to match the $12,000 salary he received last year with the A's, said that "there is no question about my decision—I'm through."

Siebert was traded to St. Louis for George McQuinn, another first sacker with no cash involved. However, it was stipulated that the deal was contingent on both players reporting. Under the arrangement it was believed that the Browns would ask the Athletics to return McQuinn or offer an alternate player for Siebert.

Kerhonkson Pupils Exhibit Craft Work

Down; favors and soliciting, Mrs. Irving West; refreshments, Mrs. Sam Devine, Mrs. George Stockton, Mrs. Millard Davis, Mrs. E. J. Davenport, Mrs. Sanford Cross, Mrs. Ben Davis.

Night Games Sought

Scotland may soon have night football games if the proposition of Bert Manderson, of Queen's Park Football Club, is adopted by the Glasgow city fathers. He has worked out a plan to floodlight the grounds of the recreation park and a sub-committee is studying the necessary expense.

Cheer Maroon Athletes to Victory

Kerhonkson High School can usually pose as a threat to any other school in athletic competition. The same is true for Maroon and White cheerleaders as is attested by these five imposing cheerleaders who have been instrumental in keeping Maroon athletes on their toes all season long. Taking some time out from their daily chores last week, the five young ladies—Marilyn Camnitz, Jackie Christensen, Lorraine Roy, captain; Blanche Glass, and Jean Blyou—posed for The Freeman photographer and this was the happy result.

Last Friday the K.H.S. cheerleaders were hosts to the annual Mid-Hudson Valley cheerleaders' association. A meet was held during the program and Middletown High School rated first with Kingston second, Walkkill third and Marlborough placing fourth. Other schools represented were Saugerties, Port Jervis, Liberty and Newburgh. Judges for the event were Miss Jane MacPhail of Highland, Miss Evelyn Davies of Poughkeepsie and Miss Susan Betrand of Casanovia. (Freeman Photo)

The records of Lloyd in the War of 1812 were made available by accidental discovery in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ernst. These records are now in possession of Lloyd Post, American Legion.

Civil war records were collected by the town clerk and destroyed in the fire of 1891. The War of 1898 had two representatives from Lloyd. With the institution of the State Department of History came the appointment of Mrs. J. D. Rose by the supervisors, Philip Schenck and Nathan D. Williams, as local historian. Taking office in 1919, she completed the roll of over 150 veterans of World War I by calling personally upon them and she received special commendation from State Historian Dr. Fick.

Legislative Roundup

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., March 26 (AP)—New York's nerve-frayed Legislature paused in its home stretch gallop toward final adjournment today to stage explosive debates on the state residential rent control bill and the New York city tax program.

Legislative leaders predicted it would be many hours beyond the scheduled 3 p. m. quitting time before the lawmakers finished their work.

Although both the rent control bill and Mayor William O'Dwyer's tax program were likely to be approved, thorough airing of the measures was indicated.

Bills continued the New York city commercial rent control laws for another year were passed by the Assembly last night.

Democrats Hit Bill

The Democrats, one of whom said the residential rent freeze bill "stinks," lined up speakers to assail provisions excluding new construction and summer places from control.

The minority also marshaled its best orators to assail Governor Dewey and the Republican legislative leaders for what it has termed the "short-changing" of the cities in state and under the Moore Commission program.

This line of attack was to be followed in debate on the New York city tax bills, under which the city would be allowed to raise $79,000,000 in new taxes each year for the next three years.

The Democrats contend that if the Dewey Administration had given New York city "a fair share" of state revenues the tax program would have been unnecessary.

Assembly Democratic Leader Irvin Stieglitz said the issue would be threshed out again in the gubernatorial election campaign next fall.

Create Airport Authority

Mayor William O'Dwyer got over one high hurdle last night when the Senate passed, 39 to 14, a bill creating a New York city airport authority.

The measure was up for expected passage in the Assembly today. Meanwhile, one of the most torrid debates of the session took place in the Assembly on a proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit the nomination of a candidate by a party in which he is not enrolled.

Sponsored by Republican Assemblyman Orlo M. Brees of Enclisot and aimed at the American Labor Party and other minor parties, the proposal was defeated by a vote of 76 to 61.

With the Democrats solidly opposed, the Assembly voted, 50 to 54, for a proposed constitutional amendment to lengthen the term of state senators from two to four years.

Fund Is Approved To Help Catch Up With Tax Evaders

House Favors Spending $16,135,000 on Plan; Senate Has Not Acted Yet

Washington, March 26 (AP)—A new $16,135,000 fund to help the Internal Revenue Bureau run down approximately 40,000 tips on tax evasions won the approval of the House Appropriations Committee today. The money was included in a $233,179,133 overall deficiency appropriation bill for miscellaneous agencies, which the committee voted to the House floor for debate later this week.

The committee acted after hearing bureau heads explain results already achieved in crackdown operations against income tax evaders.

During the first six months of the current fiscal year, Assistant Revenue Commissioner William J. Sherwood told the committee, additional tax assessments which are practically 100 per cent collectible were $172,587,000 in excess of assessments for the corresponding period of the preceding year.

Have 40,000 Leads
Approximately 40,000 leads on attempted evasions have been given the bureau, Sherwood said, and many more tips are expected.

The leads have been furnished, he said, by "public-spirited citizens," disgruntled former employees, "jealous neighbors" and in some cases have grown out of family disagreements.

In requesting the additional fund, Sherwood said he was confident the extra money would provide "hundreds of millions of dollars of unreported taxes."

Would Increase Personnel
The committee said the additional money would permit an increase in revenue bureau personnel from 58,310 to approximately 63,726 and gives the bureau current year funds of $176,650,000. The House recently voted $181,700,000 for the bureau's work for the fiscal year starting next July 1, but the Senate has not yet acted.

There are about 100 separate fund allotments in the bill, including $6,480,000 for the State Department for the cost of United States participation in the United Nations Organization.

In addition the committee recommended funds for the employment of approximately 166 persons on the permanent United States staff of U.N.O.

Nazi Gang Emasculates G. I.

Frankfurt, March 26 (AP)—Military police said today a gang of German youths had emasculated a 26-year-old American Army corporal and killed another U. S. soldier near the border of Russian-occupied Germany.

The corporal, whose name was withheld, is recovering in an Army hospital from loss of blood. American investigators said no arrest has been made in other case.

Military police said the corporal was waylaid in a dark, robbery-stricken alley in Kassel at 4 a. m. March 25. He said he had been drinking and was set upon by five or six German youths.

Investigators said there was no evidence to support a theory that the attack was motivated by revenge, but the soldier was known to have been fraternizing with a German girl.

Details of the murder of the soldier at Eschwege in the northern part of the American zone were withheld, but it was reported that an unknown person hit the American on the head with a blunt instrument. The assailant was said to have been wounded in the struggle. He reportedly fled toward the Russian boundary line leaving a trail of bloodstains.

Halt Vessel Trying To Crash Palestine

Jerusalem, March 26 (AP)—An official communiqué said today that a 150-ton sailing vessel carrying 240 Jewish immigrants attempting to enter Palestine illegally was intercepted by the British Destroyer Chevron last night and escorted to Haifa.

A number of incidents at Tel Aviv and Sarona, in which a Jewish woman was gravely injured, apparently were intended as diversions to screen the landing, the communiqué said, adding that a number of Jews were arrested and arms and explosives confiscated following the outbreaks.

Earlier reports said several hundred Jewish immigrants had found shelter in Tel Aviv following an illegal landing covered by a diversionary attack on the nearby Sarona police camp.

Will Fill Police Chief Post in April

Stoudt and Ernest A. Boss. That a promotion may be made from the ranks, it is said, is being seriously considered by the police board in view of the fact that Chief Phinney rose from the ranks to head the department.

May Go Outside

There is nothing, however, in the civil service rules and regulations, it is said, that will prevent the police board, if it so desires, to appoint a man to the post from outside the ranks of the department.

Speculation has been rife since Chief Phinney's resignation as to the man the police board will appoint in his place.

If the board finally decides to promote from the ranks it would not be surprising if the board also filled the vacant post of police captain. The post of captain has been vacant ever since James V. Simpson retired some time ago.

Stoudt or Boss
The board, if that step were decided upon, would undoubtedly select one of the two police lieutenants, Stoudt or Boss, to serve as chief while the other was promoted to the post of captain.

If this procedure were taken it would mean that a civil service examination would be held in which the four police sergeants, Roy Van Buren, William P. Martin, William T. Rodell and William J. Leonard could participate, and the ones successful in passing the examination promoted to lieutenants.

If this were done it would leave two appointments open to bring the quota of sergeants up to the present number of four. To do so would be necessary for the civil service board to hold an examination, which would be confined to the present patrolmen.

War Veterans Back

All of the members of the police department who were called to the colors during the recent war, are now back in uniform with the exception of Peter Minasian.

Mayor Edmundo refused to commit himself as to what action the police board might take at its April meeting in selecting a chief, and whether the chief would be appointed from the ranks or an outsider selected.

The mayor made it plain, however, that if a man outside the ranks were chosen he would have to be fully qualified for the job.

Several names have been mentioned in the speculation that has followed the resignation of Chief Phinney. According to rumors circulated in the city Ernest Heppner, former president of the city's welfare department, and active in local Democratic ranks, has been prominently mentioned.

Efforts were made to get in touch with Mr. Heppner today to ascertain if he was in a receptive mood, but he was out of town. Louis P. Hurley of Hurley is another mentioned as an eligible choice for the post, but Mr. Hurley has expressed himself as not interested.
